THIRTY-SECOND YEAR — LINCOLN, NEB., TUESDAY, MAY 29, 1934 — THREE CENTS IN GREATER LINCOLN—FIVE CENTS ELSEWHERE

MERCURY AT 100; MAY MARK FALLS

California Treasurer's Daughter Victim In Torch Murder

HIGHEST EARLY SUMMER RECORD IN HISTORY SET

Lincoln's All-Time May Heat Peak of 98 Shattered As Temperature Rockets Upward—Previous Earliest 100 Mark Set On June 2, 1911—Norfolk Reports 105.5.

The mercury in the weather bureau's thermometer hit 100 degrees at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, breaking a 23-year record for early-eason 100-degree temperatures in Lincoln.

In forty-seven years of weather recording here, the early-season record for 100-degree temperatures was hung up June 2, 1911. The century mark registered Tuesday afternoon of course shattered all previous May heat records, the previous May high being 98 degrees registered here in 1913.

Temperature recorded here Tuesday morning follow:

6 a. m.	67	11	91
7	68	noon	93
8	73	1 p. m.	97
9	78	2	100
10	87

The high of 93 degrees reached here Monday afternoon forecast blistering heat, but the record came out of a clear sky, so to speak. Heavy clouds that obscured the sun here Tuesday morning were almost rolled away during the afternoon.

Other high temperatures reported in Nebraska Monday were: Alliance, 95; Broken Bow, 99; Grand Island, 96; Hartington, 99; Holdrege, 98; Loup City, 99; North Platte, 96; Oakdale, 99; O'Neill, 101; Red Cloud, 97; Valentine, 98. Temperatures in the nineties were registered at other Nebraska towns.

105.5 At Norfolk.

NORFOLK, Neb., May 29—(AP)—The mercury soared to a new all-time heat record for May here today when the federal weather observer announced an official reading of 105.5 degrees at 2 p. m. The previous May maximum of 101 was reached on May 29, 1913, and equalled on May 19 and 20 of this year.

U. S. WILLING TO JOIN IN CUTTING NAVAL TONNAGE

Offer to Aid Control Sale Of War Materials Made at Parley.

GENEVA, May 29—(AP)—The United States offered the world assistance in the reduction and control of armaments today and soviet Russia advocated the complete abolition of armaments in proposals made before the international disarmament conference.

The American suggestions were made by Norman H. Davis, United States ambassador-at-large. The Russian proposal was made by Maxim Litvinoff, foreign commissar for the soviet union.

Davis said the United States is willing to join "in a substantial and proportionate reduction of naval tonnage" and is likewise willing to join an international agreement regulating sales of war materials.

His statement regarding naval reductions were anticipatory of the great naval conference of 1935 which will seek to supplement the present naval agreement by which Great Britain, the United States and Japan are armed at sea on a 5-5-3 ratio.

He added his hope that Germany will see its way clear to resume

World's Richest Indian Dead At 92

Barnett Figured in Court Battle Over Marriage to White Wife.

LOS ANGELES, May 29—(AP)—Jackson Barnett, 92, incompetent Oklahoma Indian, who became a millionaire through discovery of oil on government lands given to him, died here today.

Known as the world's richest Indian, for 13 years he was a figure in the courts in suits by the United States government to invalidate his marriage to his white wife, Anna Laura Lowe Barnett and force her to return $550,000 in gifts he had given her.

He lived in a mansion on Wilshire boulevard.

Prior to his first marriage to Anna Laura Lowe at Coffeyville, Kas., he had been declared incompetent by the government. The woman went through a second marriage with the aged Indian at Neosho, Mo.

The aged Indian also had made gifts said to total about half a million dollars to the American Baptist Home Missionary society, and these also were held invalid in the federal government's court action.

One of the final steps in the federal court action here was a decision invalidating the marriage a few months ago.

RELIEF CHIEFS MEETING HERE

Nebraska Aid Problems Being Analyzed By Field Heads.

Sixty men and women, comprising the field heads of the relief organization in Nebraska, met here Tuesday morning in a roundtable "truth session" under the direction of Rowland Haynes, federal relief agent for Nebraska. It was the first general meeting of the chiefs of the field forces and was called to devise ways of effecting closer coordination of activities in the interest of efficiency and economy, Haynes said.

Following the morning session at the Cornhusker hotel, the meeting adjourned for luncheon, when Mrs. L. M. Scott, of Washington, D. C., spoke.

Much of the discussion during the morning centered around the cessation of FERA work relief in various counties recently as a result of deficits incurred by county organizations.

Budgetary planning will be required, Haynes pointed out, to prevent recurrence of deficits and resulting stoppage of work.

A suggestion that may lead to adoption of a general policy in sparse counties was the proposed combination of Deuel, Keith and Perkins counties in the relief district in the interest of economy and efficiency.

City Golf Tourney Over Eastridge Course, Aug. 5-11

The date for the annual city golf championship was fixed as August 5-11 by the board of governors of the city golf association Tuesday noon at the Cornhusker hotel. The tournament will be held over the Eastridge course.

Hi. Bowers was elected president of the board and Ted Sick secretary-treasurer. The board adopted a resolution recommending that future city tourneys be held the first week in August.

JURY FOR TRIAL HARRY CONKLIN IS COMPLETED

Opening Statements Of Attorneys Slated For Afternoon.

COURT TO RECESS ON MEMORIAL DAY

Temporary Delay Caused As Veniremen Are Exhausted.

Impanelling of a jury to hear the Conklin case was completed by attorneys at 2:25 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The jury was composed of the following men:

Colton S. Smith, 1229 G street, insurance man.
William Creach, 2844 Franklin street, railroad man.
Paul Hoffman, 2548 South Fourteenth street, chemist.
George Brehr, 1517 South Eighth street, fireman.
Everett E. Allen, 4803 Madison avenue, plumbing and heating employe.
James H. Moran, 1416 O street, real estate man.
George R. Myers, 1234 K street, hotel clerk.
Silas R. Davenport, 4718 Stockwell street, barber.
Otto Peterson, Davey, farmer.
Ray Krueger, Roca, farmer.
William F. Heller, 1250 South Twenty-fourth street, piano tuner.
Don T. Elliott, Fifth and Adams streets, unemployed.
William L. Carlington, 4330 M street, a carpenter, was chosen as an alternate.

Completion of a jury for State Land Commissioner Harry P. Conklin's trial on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the state was near as the noon recess was taken in District court Tuesday, the second day of the trial.

Indications were that remaining jurors would be chosen early in the afternoon session. Opening statements by the attorneys to the jury were then scheduled, making it unlikely that much testimony would be introduced during the day. The trial recesses Wednesday for Memorial day, so that the trial will not get well under way until proceedings are resumed at 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

Call More Jurors.

Selection of the jury might have been finished before Tuesday noon had not a series of challenges for cause exhausted the list of jurors reserved for call in this case. Judge Frost called a recess at 11:30 so that other jurors on the general panel might be rounded up by 2 o'clock. The judge, with consent of the attorneys, had reserved only part of the panel Monday afternoon for the Conklin case to per-

FARRELL TELLS OF NEW SPIRIT

Four-H Club Members Hear of Neighborliness, Fair Play.

The nineteenth annual 4-H club week at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture went into its second day Tuesday with the several hundred outstate farm boys and girls listening to a talk by George E. Farrell, national wheat administrator, wherein he said a new spirit of neighborliness and fairplay is sweeping the country. He spoke on the general convocation period during the morning in the student activities building.

Champions in all lines of 4-H activities, these boys and girls were to tour the city Tuesday afternoon and then picnic at Antelope park this evening. L. C. Oberlies, city commissioner, is to lead in Vesper services at the park.

Farrell's talk was the feature of the second day of club week. L. I. Frisbie, state club leader, presided over the session. Parvin Witte sang two solos and T. C. Diers lead the boys and girls in singing. Class periods occupied the rest of the morning program.

"If you are here for selfish reasons, you cannot hope to fit into the changing world," Farrell declared in speaking before the farm youths. "This new feeling of neighborliness and fair play among all means you must adjust yourself to take your place alongside of other men and women in the world."

Just Share For Farmer.

Striking his "keynote" of over-production, the national administrator said the "new deal" means that the farmer is to get his just share of the national income. Surpluses, he said, do not pile up in a year but over a period of time. He spoke of benefit payments under the AAA not as a dole or relief but rather as the farmer's fair share of the national income. Regarding wheat he said better times do not necessarily mean that consumption of bread will increase but that it will remain steady as men do not eat more bread when they have plenty of other good things on the table.

By August 15 farmers will have been paid $102,000,000 in wheat adjustments, the boys and girls were told. All will have been collected from processing taxes before that time. Consumers are not kicking on the tax as they are glad to help the farmer get his share of the national income. This spirit of neighborliness is the greatest thing which has come into the picture.

"Four-H club work brings out the welfare of the group and not of the individual. You should go back to your home communities and see that the rest of your club gets the information about this week," he concluded.

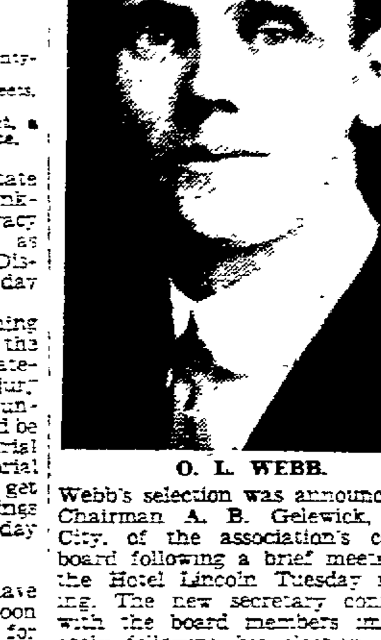
Proper Flag Display

Mayor Fenton B. Fleming Tuesday was asking owners of buildings to observe Memorial day Wednesday by flying their flags at half staff until noon, when they should be run up and flown at full staff the rest of the day. The mayor emphasized that flags should be run to the top of the pole and then dropped to half staff. The mayor also has requested that curb flags be displayed.

NAME O. L. WEBB NEW SECRETARY

David City Man Choice of NHSAA Board to Succeed Black.

O. L. Webb, just completing his twelfth year as superintendent of schools at David City, is the new executive secretary of the Nebraska High School Athletic association.



O. L. WEBB.

Webb's selection was announced by Chairman A. B. Gelewick, Falls City, of the association's control board following a brief meeting at the Hotel Lincoln Tuesday morning. The new secretary conferred with the board members immediately following his election. Webb follows Walter I. Black, recently resigned.

The new athletic secretary is one of the prominent school men in the state being a member of Phi Delta Kappa, educational fraternity, Schoolmasters' club and holding life membership in the National Educational association and Nebraska State Teachers associa-

Hitchhiker Killed Near Lawrence, Kas.

Had Coat With Name "W. L. Cummins" On Lining, But Lincoln Man Safe.

LAWRENCE, Kas., May 29—(AP)—An unidentified hitchhiker was killed today on state highway No. 10, a quarter of a mile south of Lawrence, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Claude L. Scott, insurance man here.

The man was wearing a coat with "W. L. Cummins, Lincoln, Neb." on the lining. This was the only identification mark and Sheriff Jack Dunkley was checking with Lincoln police authorities.

Cummins, Father Safe.

W. L. Cummins, local manager of the Searle & Chapin Lumber company, phoned his office from Marysville, Kas., that both he and his father had arrived there safely Tuesday and could offer no explanation of the coat on the hitchhiker.

When Lawrence officials communicated with local police the lumber company here was called immediately and it was learned that Mr. Cummins and his father had gone to Marysville on business in the morning. A call was put in to Marysville officials and when Mr. Cummins arrived there he telephoned Lincoln at once to report his safety.

JUSTICE AGENTS CLOSE ON TRAIL OF DILLINGER

Mrs. Bess Green, Widow of Slain Gangster, Helping in Chase.

REPORTED SEEN IN INDIANAPOLIS

Identification Made By Fellow Townsman of Slippery Outlaw.

CHICAGO, May 29—(AP)—Department of justice agents are close on the trail of John Dillinger, it was learned today from a reliable source.

Agents working under Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the Chicago bureau of investigation, are following his track with the aid of Mrs. Bess Green, widow of a Dillinger gangster slain at St. Paul.

Mrs. Green was brought here secretly a week ago after receiving a small prison sentence at St. Paul for her part in hiding Dillinger.

Purvis, as always, would not discuss the search nor tell where his men had been assigned, but it was understood that the trail which has spread over many states was now narrowing and the most feared outlaw in the land might be dead or in custody before long.

It was also learned that the three girls captured after being deserted at the Little Bohemia resort in the north Wisconsin woods, where Dillinger escaped a federal trap, are now in Chicago. Whether Purvis is using them as volunteers or conscripts in the Dillinger hunt could not be ascertained. The three were given suspended sentences.

Positive of Identification.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29—(INS)—A widespread search was in progress here today for John Dillinger and three members of his gang, following the outlaw's positive identification, according to police, by a man who had lived at Mooresville, and knew him well.

The name of Dillinger's fellow townsman was not made public as the man feared gang vengeance.

Dillinger is an expert driver and it was thought possible that the 500-mile speedway race tomorrow may have attracted him to come here in his customary bold and swashbuckling manner.

"I recognized Dillinger," the informant said, "because I've known him for years. I am positive in my identification."

The alarm was broadcast over the city police radio and state police were notified.

DERN SAYS ARMY IS 'INADEQUATE'

Endorses Bill to Boost Number of Officers and Men to 179,000.

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—Secretary Dern told the house military committee today that he believed the army as at present constituted could not perform its necessary mission of national defense.

In his first appearance before the committee, Dern endorsed a bill by Representative Thompson, democrat, Texas, to require an increase from 130,000 to 179,000 in the number of officers and enlisted men.

Dern emphasized that he was not presenting the views of the president, and that he had not consulted him because "I knew his desire to balance the budget and any large expenditure might not be in harmony with his program."

He agreed with Representative May, democrat, Kentucky, that the present army is "wholly inadequate."

Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, added his plea for an "adequate" nucleus around which to build a wartime army.

R. M. Moehn, Carroll, Ia., banker and secretary of the Carroll National Farm Loan association has been named director-at-large of the Farm Credit administration for the eighth district by Governor William I. Myers.

REPORT HEAVY ABANDONMENT WHEAT IN STATE

Anderson Advises All Nebraska Be Cited For Drouth Aid.

"Terrific abandonment" of winter wheat and a "low condition" of the remainder of that crop and also of spring wheat were reported Tuesday by A. E. Anderson, state and federal agricultural statistician. He also announced that he has wired his superiors at Washington urging that the entire state be designated drouth area and acreage reduction agreements be ameliorated as a measure of relief from one of the worst drouths in the state's history.

Reports from Nebraska bankers, Anderson said in his mid-month report, characterize winter wheat abandonment as "terrific." Unusually heavy abandonment is reported even from the best sections, northwestern and southeastern Nebraska. The condition of the crop is unusually low and 20 per cent of the wheat is being pastured because of feed shortage, according to reports reaching Anderson.

Spring Wheat At 44.

Bankers report 44 per cent of the spring wheat turning brown, pasture condition is placed at 32 per cent and alfalfa at 50 per cent. A surplus of hay was reported by 9 per cent of the bankers.

In regard to his recommendation that the entire state be designated drouth area, Anderson said conditions have grown worse since last Thursday, when a survey was made and the recommendation made that all the state be designated drouth area except fourteen counties and fourteen counties and portions of eighteen others.

While urging that the whole state be designated drouth area, with permission to pasture contracted sweet clover acres throughout the state, Anderson advised Washington officials that the absolute minimum drouth area should include all counties south of and including Chase, Lincoln, Custer, Valley, Greeley, Boone, Madison, Stanton, Cuming, Dixon and Dakota counties.

Surveys "Rain" Area.

Anderson bases his recommendation upon the results of a survey made into southeastern Nebraska where reports indicated considerable rain since May 1. In that region, he said, conditions were found to be but little better than elsewhere. In many places, three inches of rain have fallen, but first crop of alfalfa showed but little benefit. Pastures were brown and aside from the fact that spring grain and winter wheat were a little greener there was slight evidence of beneficial effects from heavy rainfall, Anderson declared.

He said the pasture and feed situation is "very serious." There is little hay available even though funds can be provided to purchase feed.

Hearing Refused

Mayor Fleming refused to hear the demands of the group and said he would arrange with a committee of the workers for a hearing Thursday before the entire council.

A crowd of FERRA workers estimated at [illegible] was packing the council chamber of the city hall Tuesday afternoon awaiting the arrival of city officials with whom they sought to confer in regard to the resumption of FERRA work without discrimination. They had an eight-point program to present.

'No Accident' Record

Nebraska 4-H club boys and girls have established a nineteen-year record of "no accidents" during club week. Nurses Tuesday examined those attending the twentieth annual 4-H club week here and other precautions were being taken to preserve the record intact for another year.

Abandonment Of Seven Codes Is Cause For Apprehension Here; Price-Cutting Reaction Feared

Lincoln businessmen whose establishments are affected by President Roosevelt's decision to abandon price fixing regulations in seven codes, Tuesday were waiting watchfully for possible reactions in the form of price cutting. Principally affected by the decisions were the cleaning and dyeing, barber and shoe re-building establishments.

Those in close contact with the state associations reported that in all three businesses most of the proprietors had been in favor of the codes and were apprehensive of the results of the step to rescind fixing of minimum prices. With the maximum hours and minimum wages provisions still in effect, price cutting would cause a serious problem, they stated.

Causes Problem.

Harry Walker of the state barbers' examiners board stated that the step was going to make it hard to enforce the code. The barbers code was signed by the president April 19 and was not effective due to efforts being made to straighten out certain provisions, he said.

Leo Soukup, member of the state enforcement board for cleaners and dyers pointed out that the cleaners in the middlewest were heartily in favor of the code and that the movement to suspend the price fixing clauses seemed to have started in the east. "We'd like to have the protection that the code affords," Mr. Soukup said.

George Lemon, secretary of the Nebraska cleaners association, stated: "The code had a lot of good provisions and we felt that it would work out eventually for our benefit."

Shoe repairmen were also solidly in favor of the code. At the time of the Lincoln association's adoption of it more than 90 per cent signed. They will hold a special meeting Tuesday evening at the chamber of commerce to discuss possible steps in meeting the new situation.

In every business a condition of advancing prices in supplies and materials is being experienced, it was stated, and lowered prices might easily result in some firms being forced out.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 29—(AP)—Dr. C. D. McDonnell, autopsy surgeon, announced today that Virginia L. Johnson who was found dead in a garage here last night had not been criminally attacked. He said the autopsy showed burns only were accountable for her death.

The surgeon said he had found no skull injuries that would indicate violence other than an old lesion and that a study of the girl's mouth, nose and lungs indicated that she lay on her right side and breathed in flames for some time before she died.

"So far as the examination has gone," said the surgeon, "I would say that burns only were accountable for the death. No poison was found in the stomach as far as could be determined by the preliminary examination."

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 29—(INS)—Her clothing drenched with kerosene and set afire after she apparently had been beaten to death with a cement block, the nearly nude body of Virginia Johnson, beautiful socialite 22-year-old daughter of Charles G. "Gus" Johnson, California state treasurer and candidate for governor, was found in an unused private garage three blocks from her home and today a widespread manhunt was in progress.

The girl's body was burned almost beyond recognition and was identified by dental work. Police said she had been attacked.

One youth, said by police to have been a "boy friend" of the murdered girl, was held for questioning as officers investigated his movements.

Miss Johnson left home at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon apparently to take a walk. Two hours

Quintuplets May Die Says Doctor, Despite Their Gain in Strength

CORBEIL, Ont., May 29—(AP)—There is a possibility that the five baby girls born yesterday to 24-year-old Mrs. Ovila Dionne will die, it was said today by Dr. A. R. Dafoe, attending physician.

Dr. Dafoe said he based his opinion on the history of similar cases, rather than on the state of health of the infants at present. They were premature by one month and are being fed a mixture of milk, corn syrup and water with an eye dropper.

Despite his doubt that the babies will survive, Dr. Dafoe found them gaining strength today. They cried lustily most of the night, which he said was a hopeful sign.

To assure the quintuplets every chance of living Dr. Dafoe has asked Red Cross officials to aid in caring for the children.

The continued survival of the children has amazed medical authorities who have besieged Dr. Dafoe with telephone calls asking their condition. At 5 a. m., today an official of the American Medical association of Chicago called the physician and said he could hardly believe his statement that the infants were gaining strength.

What joy the father, Ernest Dionne, 24, may have felt at becoming one of the few fathers of quintuplets was somewhat dimmed by the thoughts of a heavy mortgage on his farm. The couple has four other children.

"I'm the kind of a fellow they should put in jail," Dionne said.

STROBLE FILES FOR GOVERNOR

W. H. Smith Denies He Is Planning Race For Congress.

A Nebraska City grocer, J. G. Stroble, got into the race for governor Tuesday as a democrat. He is the seventh man to enroll for gubernatorial honors on that ticket.

The possibility that State Tax Commissioner W. H. Smith might run for congress in the first district democratic primary has been reached, but Smith himself is giving the matter no serious consideration, he said Tuesday morning.

Meanwhile Frank Mills of Lincoln called at the secretary of state's office Tuesday and got a filing blank for congress. He won't run, however, unless he knows for sure that Morehead is out of the contest.

A second petition signed by 25 Lincoln voters for E. M. Bair for commissioner for congress in the republican primary of the first district has been received by the secretary of state.

F. A. Good of Lincoln, who has run for state railway commissioner a number of times, once tried it again Tuesday as a democratic candidate for state railway commissioner.

A new legislative filing in the secretary of state's office is that of William B[illegible] of Nebraska City for state senate in the 2nd district.

U. S. RENOUNCES INTERVENTION IN NEW CUBAN PACT

Nations Expected Sign Treaty Eliminating Platt Amendment.

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—The United States and Cuba are expected to sign a new political treaty today in which the Platt amendment is entirely eliminated.

The treaty in the course of negotiation for several months will replace the 1903 pact.

The Platt amendment of the 1903 treaty, is the one giving the United States the right to intervene in Cuba if such action should be considered necessary for the maintenance of order and the protection of American lives and property.

Caused Bitter Controversy.

The amendment has long been bitterly attacked by all Cuban factions, and has been considered in many quarters an outstanding bar to complete amicable relations between the two republics.

Dr. Manuel Marquez Sterling, the Cuban ambassador was empowered by his government to sign the new treaty.

SALVATION ARMY SERVICE LAUDED

Curtiss Tells Aims at Campaign Workers Kick-off Dinner.

The day has come when we must recognize that there are certain fundamental principles upon which we must build our civilization, if it is to be a lasting one These principles are the ones upon which the Salvation Army is founded," John E Curtiss told more than 200 workers in the Salvation Army campaign for $11 750 at a "kick off" dinner in the Cornhusker hotel Monday evening

More than 300 workers started soliciting Tuesday morning Earl Coryell, campaign general chairman said that he had never seen a group of workers so enthusiastic concerning their purpose First report luncheon will be Thursday noon

"Need More Sentiment."

The Salvation Army is based on friendliness, kindness, spiritual salvation and mercy, Mr Curtiss said at the dinner, "and all these are considered when it works You may charge that this is sentamentalism Well, perhaps it is, but I'm not so sure but that the hope of this world does not lie in more sentimentalism and emotionalism"

"Very clearly, we've tried to build a civilization around screaming sirens, the roar of pneumatic drills, and tall smokestacks and we've tried to build this in the middle of dance halls and sign boards, and just as clearly we have failed," Mr. Curtiss said

Mrs Frances Otway a retired Salvation Army colonel with 45 years of service all over the world, told of the experiences of her husband and herself while serving under Gen Wilham Booth, the founder of the army

Mrs Otway just returned from visiting her daughter, Kathleen Hill in Army work in the West Indies, and is now with her son, Maj Harry Otway of Omaha commander of the Army's activities in the state She has one other daughter Gertrude Melbourne, who is a Salvation Army missionary to Korea.

NRA REGULATION TO BE LIGHTENED

Further Steps Simplifying Administrative Job To Be Taken Soon.

WASHINGTON, May 29 — (AP) — NRA, which has just granted a measure of home rule to cleaners, barbers and five other service trades soon will take further steps to simplify its job

Recovery officials studied these steps today while denying emphatically opposition declarations that NRA is "cracking up"

Further measures to lighten the burden of regulation are expected to deal principally with the 500 to 600 small codes yet to be approved

Hugh S Johnson feels that most of these have been requiring time and expense out of all proportion to the benefits to labor or industry A method of cutting down the administrative load is being devised, designed to leave the NRA free to put more energy on the industries employing millions

Aim at Chiselers.

By abandoning price-fixing and fair practices clauses in the seven codes and leaving these matters to be handled locally the NRA concededly aimed for one particular result among others It hopes that those they term 'chiselers' can be brought into line without resort to legal bludgeons

Representative Britten, republican Illinois said the next step of the NRA "will be to announce that the steel, oil and practically every other mportant code is operating in violation of the law in the direct promotion of monopolies which are not only destroying the smaller business man and industrialist, but are working a great burden upon the American consumer and farmer"

5 Little Girls at Once

Cuba Remembers

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Mrs. Olivia Dionne, of North Bay, Ontario had six children last Sunday, and "expected" another Yesterday she had eleven children, her family increased by five girl babies at one birth

Dr. A R. Dafoe of Callander says "The five little girls are all well, and chirping '

This will interest millions of women far more than NRA, the Russian-Japanese complications, or the approaching home-going of congress.

Mr Green head of the American Federation of Labor, does not seem optimistic about those 'better times' He says there are ten million men idle in the United States now, about as many as there were before all the "relief' began Whether strikes, labor fights and the determined efforts of labor leaders to 'muscle in" where the open shop has hitherto existed will improve the employment conditions, is for Mr Green and his aassociates to decide.

The people and government of Cuba are trying to find four assassins, accused of attempting to murder Jefferson Caffery, United States ambassador The real Cubans, intelligent people, seek no quarrel with the United States. They "remember the Maine," and what happened to Spain after that ship was sent to the bottom Spain was driven out of Cuba and all the way home across the Atlantic, and out of the Philippines, as well.

Mrs Franklin D Roosevelt wife of the president, an able, energetic and kind-hearted woman, arrived at Alderson West Virginia, yesterday, to inspect the federal prison for women and speak to the 400 inmates. For such an address, or any address to any prisoners, the best text is the well-known remark of the Bohemian John Huss, looking at a poor drunkard in the gutter "But for the grace of God, there lies John Huss"

The "New York committee on the use of leisure time" says mental entertainment, and mental occupation must be found for the new leisure hours, product of diminished work hours. You can't ask men to go back to the days of craftsmanship and find happiness in work with their hands, says the committee

It was hard probably in the beginning to make men work. It will be just as hard in coming days of leisure to make life interesting without work There are the public libraries that ought to be crowded their space multiplied tenfold, but men are not accustomed to reading a "learned style" The good books are too heavy, the others not worthwhile

To change from a twelve-hour day to a six-hour day in one generation is sudden Excess leisure would cease to be a problem if everybody in the United States had everything he wanted, clothes, shoes, hats, house, automobiles Production in that case would be doubled, and there would be no excess leisure

DEMAND COUNTY REMOVE INSANE

City Council Threatens Enjoin Quarters At 18th and R.

The use by Lancaster county of a house near Eighteenth and R streets as quarters for insane patients will be attacked in the courts unless the practice is abandoned within thirty days, according to instructions to the city's legal department from the council Monday

"You will start an injunction action unless the patients are moved within thirty days," Mayor Fenton B. Fleming told City Attorney Max Kier. "We have waited long enough for the county to take action."

The use of the house has been a controversial issue between the county and the city for several weeks, because of complaints to city officials from residents of the vicinity where the hospital is maintained in a house owned by Dr. R. H. Sawyer, county physician

According to City Attorney Kier, Dr Sawyer has said that the patients would be taken elsewhere if necessary As a step in this direction, the county physician proposed to take over the city's isolation hospital but the council refused to consider the plan.

To Hear Good's Charges.

At the suggestion of F A Good, the council fixed 10 30 o'clock Thursday morning as the time for a hearing on charges by Good that makers of artificial ice have "arbitrarily increased prices from 25 to 33 1-3 per cent" The manufacturers will be asked by Mayor Fleming to attend and answer the complaint Mr Good expressed a willingness "to appear as the sole representative of the public interests." He added, however, that the representatives of a number of organizations may want to be heard Protest Junk Yard.

H D Hughes appeared as the representative of a group which had petitioned the council for an injunction against the operation of a junk yard at 2119-25 R street. He said that property values have been ruined, and that unless the business is stopped, the council as a board of equalization should reduce assessed valuations in the istrict at least $20,000 per block.

Joe Shapiro, owner of the place, told the council he has been operating the business about eight years "It is not a junk yard ' he said ' All that we do is dismantle wrecked cars and sell the good parts to junk ea'ers ' He agreed to conform to the regulations recently enacted in a new junk dealers ordinance

The appointment of Mrs Elfreda Switzer, RN, as superintendent of the isolation hospital was confirmed by the council, effective June 1

W. R Roberts asked the council to install a street light at Twenty-fifth street and Woodsdale boulevard

Fleet to Pass in Review Thursday Before Roosevelt

WASHINGTON May 29—(AP)—Seven hundred thousand tons of fighting steel will knife the sea off New York harbor Thursday when the fleet swings past President Roosevelt in majestic review

Eighty-six gray fighting ships and their auxiliaries with many of their 40 000 men standing in salute along the rails will sweep past the president From the deck of the cruiser Indianapolis, Mr Roosevelt will watch the first bulwark of national defense glide by By his side will be Secretary Swanson and other dignitaries

From the battleship Pennsylvania carrying the four-star flag of Admiral David S Sellers commander-in-chief of the fleet the vessels shrink to the comparative pygmies —a host of destroyers, swift and lean

The aircraft carriers Saratoga and Lexington after passing the reviewing ships will flip their winged fighters aloft for an hour's demonstration of formation flying, smoke-screen laying and bombing.

ROOSEVELT ACTS TO HALT STRIFE

Outlaws Sale of War Materials for Paraguay and Bolivia.

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—Obstacles in the form of treaties stood today in the way of concerted action to cut off munitions from Paraguay and Bolivia, battling in the Gran Chaco

President Roosevelt, in what was called a step unprecedented in American history issued last night a proclamation outlawing the sale in this country of war materials for the belligerents

It was the first such step taken during the long and bloody war and it placed the United States definitely in the forefront of other nations in the effort to halt the strife Thirty-one countries plan to participate tomorrow in a league meeting at Geneva at which a general arms embargo will be discussed

Not Outright Embargo

The president's advisers believed his move might fall short of its goal unless other South American countries joined in the action Although they are favorably disposed to do so, it was learned, treaties with Bolivia and Paraguay guaranteeing a free flow of commerce are proving a hindrance

The United States itself has such treaties with both belligerents Therefore it could not declare an embargo, resorting instead to prohibition of sales in the United States

Two years imprisonment and $100 000 fine is the maximum penalty for such sales provided in the joint congressional resolution under which the president acted He warned that violations would be 'rigorously prosecuted."

SAVE by getting more LIVE POWER per gallon -in STANDARD RED CROWN SUPERFUEL

"More Live Power per dollar" describes this important advance by Standard's refining engineers just as accurately as "more Live Power per gallon."

The amount of keen, responsive propelling power delivered by gasoline is the only true measure of its dollar-and-cents value.

On that count, Standard Red Crown Superfuel gives you a full money's worth, plus. We know that. It has been established by tests of many gasolines.

A new car with a high compression engine requires Superfuel's responsiveness to perform at its best. And, if you have an older model which has begun to slow up, Standard Red Crown Superfuel is prescribed. Chances are there is still plenty of vigor in the motor. The extra Live Power in Superfuel will bring it out.

May we suggest that you get a tankful? Make Superfuel prove, in your engine, what has been said here about its economy and performance. Judge it critically—fairly.

Here's Live Power In The Air

—With more Live Power per ounce than anything on wings the Peregrin Falcon strikes its prey at a speed of 150 miles per hour This great hunting bird was trained by medieval noblemen to bring down winged game.

And Here's Live Power on the Highway—With more Live Power per gallon, and per dollar, too Standard Red Crown Superfuel gives you all of the swift response and distance-eating speed the maker carefully built into your car

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS Two men have been murdered in Pierre Dufresne's big house. All the evidence points to the fact that they shot each other, but Sergeant Harper does not believe they did. Howard Doyle, who inadvertently brought Mrs. Dufresne into the tangle, only to have her faint and injure herself, tells Harper that the detective will be glad the mistake was made.

Chapter 18.
DOYLE'S CONTRIBUTION

Here's the queer part. The Old Man acted human for once—out from I was off the case and that was that. It's a puzzle because I have good reasons for doubting that Dufresne would go to round my back about a thing like that.

Why shouldn't he? Doyle? Mrs. Dufresne was scared half to death and it led to an injury that is very serious to any woman and especially a beautiful woman.

"Sergeant, I'm surprised! Don't you know a detective's first duty is to keep his mind free from all prejudices favorable or otherwise?" He laughed.

Harper's face began to redden. "I don't see anything funny about a beautiful woman having her face disfigured for life," he retorted.

Of course you don't, Sergeant, and neither do I. Don't misunderstand me. In such a situation one must cultivate a philosophic attitude, like our friend Dufresne. If that had happened to your wife or mine, we'd hate taken a poke at the chap who caused the trouble.

"But Mr. Dufresne is content to sit and murmur 'C'est la main du Seigneur.' In case your French is a little rusty, that means, It is the hand of God. Does Dufresne's reaction seem regular and normal to you?"

Without waiting for an answer Doyle continued: "I'm all washed up with this case but I'm going to let fly a couple of broadsides before I go and I'll be smart enough to profit by them.

"What has that to do with your case you've been withdrawn from the case?

"That's what I'm coming to. Listen, did you talked with Dufresne about those crank letters?

"Yes."

"Didn't he sort of hint around the dash that the writer might turn out to be, shall we say, not a total stranger to him?

"Yes, he hinted something like that."

"Didn't he give you the impression that there was something that he feared but wouldn't talk about? He was pretty well shaken up over that amoush wash me?"

"Yes, but that's only natural. No one but an idiot would make light of it."

"Don't you think it odd that the first time he went out without a bodyguard he was fired on? And that it occurred on a lonely road, far from the city?"

"No. It's not odd, if some one were waiting for just such a chance."

"That doesn't say much for the ability of Barry and Markison, who were supposed to be guarding him. I've always thought they were pretty good men."

"No one is infallible, Doyle."

"I think both Markison and Barry know their business." Doyle shrugged. "But let's look at it from another angle. Who knew where Dufresne was going on that trip?"

"Only himself, Mrs. Dufresne, and the two detectives so far as we know. Possibly Andrews, the butler, knew also."

"All right, we'll drop that line, but think it over and see if it doesn't suggest something to you. Now, after you ran out on us so mysteriously, I got to thinking about the hints Dufresne had been handing out and I guessed you had made the sudden dash to give the latest developments to the new widow and, incidentally, to find out just how she had been spending the evening. I remembered having seen her name in the society column, so I looked up the number. I found that Mrs. Creighton Morlock's house was only about a mile from here, so I left and walked over.

"And was I surprised when I got there and found—you hadn't been near the place. And let me tell you that the lady was expecting trouble. She didn't give me half a chance to tell my story. At the first words she rushed out of the house and into a car. The rest of the story you know."

Harper stirred restively. "I don't see where that alters the circumstances."

"Wait a minute, you haven't heard all of it yet." Doyle's alert eyes were fixed steadily on the detective's through the cigarette smoke. "I, and of the smart detective on this case is going to call in everybody concerned one by one and ask: 'Where were you on the night of January 10th?' When that time comes, Harper, you're going to find that Mrs. Dufresne will make an alibi that is really no alibi at all—then what?"

"Certainly, I'm aware that there was a dinner party at Mrs. Morlock's last night and Mrs. Dufresne is a house guest there. But, you will recall that Mrs. Dufresne was so upset over the news of the attack on her husband yesterday afternoon that she developed a severe headache and remained in her room. She did not come down for dinner."

"I've found out that you tried to reach her by telephone from the Austerlitz and couldn't get an answer. Perhaps you haven't had time to find out why, so I'll tell you. By a most strange coincidence there was a fire last night in the Morlock garage and the telephone wires strung just outside it were burned and put out of commission."

When I got to the house the confusion was at its peak—fire engines all over the street, salvaged automobiles parked anywhere, guests and servants running in and out to watch the show. No one knew where any one else was, or had been."

Doyle lowered his voice impressively. "While I was looking around I saw a woman's figure going into

Middies Honor Man

To John P. Wiley of Washington, D. C., goes the coveted first place in the honor list of the 1934 graduating class at the U. S. naval academy, Annapolis, Md.

I saw a woman's figure...ousestne the house through the side door. I couldn't see her face, but I got a good look at the fur coat and the shoes. This woman had come up the rear walk. I could see her footprints in the snow. Everybody was over on the other side of the house, watching the garage burn.

"Well, I finally found a housemaid running excitedly around the hall and I asked for Mrs. Dufresne. The girl went upstairs and in a minute or two Mrs. Dufresne came down. Harper, you can imagine the jolt I got when I recognized the slippers!"

"Not only that, but they were soaking wet from the snow as wet as my shoes were from walking over a mile in it. And when Mrs. Dufresne sent for her coat, to go along with me, there was the same fur coat I had seen disappearing through the side door, the fur still damp from melted snow. Now, what do you make of that?"

Harper was silent, digesting the story of the reporter's. "That will bear a lot of thought," Doyle finally answered slowly.

Get 'em — with final broadside. Harper: I don't know how far you've gone with your investigations but it strikes me that there's something in this case resembling the state of Denmark in Hamlet's time."

Doyle stood up and pointed through the window. "Do you see that stone wall? That's the boundary wall of Dufresne's property. On the other side of the wall are thick bushes. Last night some one had been between the bushes and the wall, walked up and down and watched this house most likely this very room. There is your witness. Find him and you'll know what went on here last night."

A few moments later Sergeant Harper and his assistant, Lafferty, sent thoughtfully over the sketch the former had drawn of the Dufresne house and grounds.

They just had come in from their inspection of the spot Doyle had discovered by a fortunate chance. The reporter's final broadside had been very telling, indeed, riddling into holes the inferential evidence so far provided by the killings. A witness, and a secret one certainly substantiated Harper's doubts that the affair had been haphazard. Here was the first hint of premeditation.

"This is certainly a choice bit of luck," Lafferty chuckled. "Wait till we blaze away with that and see whose feathers fly."

"That's exactly what we're not going to do," Harper countered. "It's an ace up our sleeve, but that's the best place for it at present. It's something to think about quietly, not brag about."

"Well, you're passing up a fine chance to put on the screws. You're giving them too much time to get their stories ready. I'm sure that smart chauffeur, Donaggy, is wise to something and then there is old Andrews and that sour-faced Mrs. Whitmore — all likely material to work on. You can't trust the servants to know things."

Harper smiled. "Don't let your patience get out of control, Jack. I'm deliberately giving these people plenty of time to think it over. If they're concealing something, they're sure to elaborate too much and take enough rope to hang themselves."

Milk Price Increase Still Being Sought

Lincoln Co-Op Seeks Heggen's Advice, Washington Discourages Direct Action.

Officials of the Lincoln Non-Stock Milk Producers association were still planning Monday to ask a cent per quart increase in the retail price of milk, but unofficial frowns from Washington caused uncertainty regarding procedure.

J. L. White, president of the co-op, said he expected A. H. Heggen, AAA milk administrator for the Lincoln, Omaha and Sioux City areas to come to Lincoln Monday or Tuesday, and his advice would be asked on the matter.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington says that department of agriculture officials unofficially indicated that they could take no direct action on a similar request from Omaha. The suggestion was made that local advisory boards be set up to consider the situation. "The administration, in present milk marketing agreements makes little effort to interfere with retail prices going only to the extent of setting very low minimum prices in some markets to prevent destructive price cutting," the dispatch reads.

Setting up an advisory board here appears to be the next step in getting more money for farmers who must buy feed because of drouth burned pastures and grains. White said.

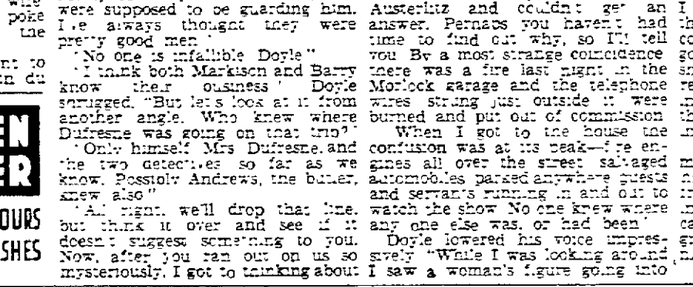
NEWS!

Science reveals important new Facts for Smokers!



Camel Smokers can verify these facts!

A famous New York research laboratory announces a basic discovery that throws new light on our past knowledge of cigarettes. It embodies an "energizing effect"... a quick restoration of the flow of natural body energy... an experience well known to Camel smokers. When you smoke a Camel you feel an almost immediate relief from fatigue. What has actually happened is that you have released and made available the latent energy in your body. You've helped your body to help itself. During the day your energy curve hits certain low points. Camels raise your flow of energy... quickly, conveniently and without jangling your nerves.

There's a "Lift" in CAMELS that drives away Fatigue and Irritability

Feel "all in"? Then's the best time to light a Camel.

It's cool and fragrant and delightful...but far more important than that, it brings your flow of energy up from the depths!

You feel fatigue vanish. Irritability seems to slip away. And you go back to work—or play—with all the energy and cheerfulness that are naturally yours.

YOU'VE HAD THE EXPERIENCE... HERE'S THE EXPLANATION!

This experience is no news to Camel smokers. But the explanation is news—and good news—to everyone.

The "lift" you get from smoking Camels is simply a release of the natural latent energy in your body. In other words you have helped your body to help itself... easily, naturally, and without the slightest strain.

Remember this explanation when your energy curve is "down"... times when you're irritable and your brain just doesn't seem to work and you feel too tired to move. At such times ..."Get a lift with a Camel!"

AND CAMELS NEVER JANGLE YOUR NERVES!

Camel fans smoke frequently—and they can—as often as they like. Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on the nerves.

Keep your flow of energy at a higher level with Camels.

TOO TIRED FOR FUN...and then she smoked a Camel!

KNOW THIS FEELING? The feeling of being too "all in" to respond to the gaiety of the crowd? No taste for the pleasure and fun of the sort of social evening that you would ordinarily look forward to? That's one of the many times to light a Camel, enjoying its rich flavor while your flow of natural, healthful energy is restored. You'll like Camels—a matchless blend of costlier tobaccos!

CAMEL'S Costlier Tobaccos never get on your Nerves

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

Sidney Man Must Answer To Charge Killing Brother; Wayne Student Is Held In Death Of Girl

FRED FRAHM IS HELD FOR TRIAL

Bound Over On Charge Of Having Slain His Brother.

Defense Offers No Testimony In Hearing At Oshkosh.

OSHKOSH, Neb., May 29—(AP)—Fred Frahm 45 of Sidney, was bound over to the District court Monday after a preliminary hearing here on charges of first degree murder growing out of the disappearance five and a half years ago of his brother John

The trial was set for the first day of the next term of district court, which convenes in October The defendant was refused bond John Frahm, wealthy Glendale, Ariz., oil man and former county clerk at Wahoo, Neb disappeared from Sidney in November, 1928 The defendant's wife, son and brother Herman visited with him after adjournment of the court

Fred pleaded not guilty at his arraignment on the murder charge last Friday, and Monday the defense offered no testimony Counsel for the defendant asked dismissal of the charge on the ground that the evidence had not connected the defendant with the death of John Frahm

Watched By Officers.

The state called Sheriff George Ridenour of Garden county and Deputy Sheriff George Sheldon of Cheyenne county who told how officers watched Fred and a man who Fred did not know was a detective, go to the grave site and dig about

Other state witnesses testified to knowing John FFrahm and to identifying the body, and Deputy State Sheriff E E Clark of Gering told of the first investigation early in 1929 He said an automobile belonging to John Frahm was seen in Colorado driven by Fred

Clark testified to interviewing farmers who saw some person leave a burned car on a lonely road near Julesburg, Colo about dark a week after John Frahm left Sidney en route from Arizona to Wahoo

The car later was identified from the engine number as belonging to John Frahm On previous questioning Fred had told authorities he borrowed John's car at North Platte a day or two after the missing man left Sidney, but returned it the next day and left John alive at North Platte

Fred sat unmoved through most of the hearing Monday

Owner Identifies His Stolen Steers

Fourteen Head Belonging to Stella Feeder Had Been Sold at Sioux City Stock Yards.

FALLS CITY, Neb., May 29—(AP)—J. W Clark of Stella has identified 14 whitefaced steers at the Sioux City, Ia., livestock market which were sold there May 1 and May 11 as those stolen from him. All were branded

Records of the brands were kept by the commission firm and the seller's name was revealed by it Clark added The 14 head were valued at $900 by Clark, who may seek to recover the value of the cattle from the commission firm

Officers here are searching for a trucker, who disappeared after abandoning a truck containing two of Clark's steers.

Nebraska Receives Money For Projects

Latenser Tells of PWA Funds Being Received For Work In This State.

OMAHA, May 29—(AP)—Nebraska PWA Engineer John Latenser, jr., today revealed a total of $149,597 10 has been requisitioned by state PWA headquarters for distribution in Nebraska, while cash already distributed totals $6,800, to the city of Aurora. Next to share in the distribution will be Metropolitan Utilities district, Omaha, $136 105 75, Falls City, $5,400, City of Albion, $1 291 35

The figures announced were part of Latenser's answer to the question "Has any PWA money actually been spent in Nebraska?"

He pointed out that $1,100,000 in projects are now underway, bids have been asked on $2,000 000 worth of work and that Washington is holding $15,000,000 for the Columbus and Sutherland projects

PWA will start making cash disbursements when work is 50 per cent completed. Due to the federal gift of 30 per cent of the cost, Latenser pointed out municipalities and the public utilities have been going ahead with projects and from their own pockets paying laborers before the arrival of federal cash

RONALD YOUNG IS BOUND OVER

Youth Held In Connection With Death Of Co-ed at Wayne.

WAYNE, Neb., May 29—(AP)—Ronald Young, 20, Wayne teachers college student, was bound over to the District court for trial after a preliminary hearing here Monday on charges growing out of the death of Nancyann Alford, 19-year-old co-ed, in a suicide pact from which Young recovered.

The defendant, charged with second degree murder and cutting with intent to kill, was lodged in jail pending trial. Once during the hearing a recess was taken when Young weakened from listening to testimony. After the girl's death it developed she was secretly wed nearly a year before to William L. Brown, a student at Flagstaff, Ariz

Authorities at the time of the death last May 3, said Young confessed to three robberies and implicated the girl in part of them, and that Young said the suicide pact was decided on in fear of prosecution.

Sheriff Archie W. Stephens testified Monday that Young said the pact was not decided on because of the robberies and quoted the defendant as saying regarding the reason for the act, "You'll never know what it is"

Ed Steele testified that when he was guarding Young in a hospital he asked the reason for the pact, and that Young replied "Did you ever want anything awfully bad and couldn't have it?"

Brown told of being secretly wed to the co-ed and said he knew nothing of her association with Young until he received a letter she mailed before going to her death. Letters the girl wrote were not read in court Articles found in her room the night after her death were introduced in evidence.

WATER RATES AT CRETE ARE DOWN

(Special to The Star)

CRETE, Neb., May 29—Water rates at Crete have been cut in half for the months of May, June and July, the rate of ten cents per thousand gallons with a minimum of $1 50 being charged for the first quarter The main object hoped to be achieved by this is the saving of Crete's many beautiful trees as well as the gardens and lawns. Both city pumps have been put into use during the past month when an average of over 500,000 gallons had been used daily The total pumping capacity is about one million gallons daily.

Here it is! The Tire That Solved The TREAD WEAR MYSTERY and won in hardest tests ever held .. "G-3"

Gives 43% longer non-skid mileage—16% more non-skid blocks—5½% wider road contact—No Extra Price

WARNING!

Watch the rest of the industry try to copy this amazing tire. Watch them try to duplicate Goodyear's claims. But, remember, you have to have "non-skid" before you can have "non-skid mileage." And to have "non-skid," you have to have GRIP where you see it here—GRIP in the center of the tread—the place where it counts, because it's the spot where the tire contacts the road. Look at the grip on this Goodyear Tire and ask yourself why buy any tire that lacks this safety? And keep in mind that you cannot successfully build this type of non-skid tire without the extra-durability of Supertwist cord.

Test cars ran day and night—starting and stopping—frazzling brakes

THE new "G-3" Goodyear tire results from months and months of careful research and test to provide better tread wear. All treads on all makes—even on ours—were wearing too fast. It was a mystery until nation-wide investigation by Goodyear experts uncovered the facts. The new automobiles, with higher power, better brakes, put new demands on tires—and no existing tire could stand the strain.

Many, many tread designs were tested. "G-3" was one of them. Just the engineers' symbol at first—but now the name of the tread that outlasted all others! Goodyear test cars ran day and night, starting and

"G-3" stood up long after other tires gave out stopping, frazzling brakes and wracking the cars, to prove "G-3" a tougher tire than any before it.

The "G-3" keeps the famous All-Weather Tread grip in the center where it is more important than ever—for quick, safe stops on smooth highways and boulevards.

But, here's how it's made better than ever:

It is a wider tread—5½% more road contact.

More non-skid blocks—16% more—have been made possible by nesting them closer.

Riding-ribs are wider—11½% wider—and grooves are narrower.

There's more rubber in the tread—an average of 2 pounds more per tire.

The "G-3" All-Weather with its wider, safer, longer-lasting tread would have been impossible without Supertwist—which only Goodyear uses in tire building.

For the wider tread puts added strain upon the tire body, a strain that extra-durable, extra-elastic Supertwist can bear without the slightest difficulty.

The result is a matchless tire—and a tread that delivers 43% longer non-skid mileage!

"G-3" All-Weather tires are now ready for you. Months ago the first "G-3" tires, in a few sizes, went into owners' service without announcement. In this actual service the new tire has lived up to its showing in the hardest driving tests that Goodyear has ever used.

See the new "G-3" Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tire at your nearest Goodyear Dealer.

Costs more to build—gives 43% more non-skid mileage—costs no more to buy—that's real value!

They will explain the shoe repair code. Bob Schnell, secretary, announced that persons interested in the shoe rebuilding trade are invited to attend.

Watson Fined $100—Ray Watson was fined $100 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of petit larceny in Municipal court Monday afternoon. Watson admitted stealing a shot gun, a loud speaker and other property valued at $29.50 from James J O'Brien of Bennet. Watso was formerly employed by O'Brien.

Award Damages.—Dan Schweitzer, plaintiff in an action to recover damages from Adolf Busboom and his father, Albert H. Busboom following an automobile accident near Emerald April 15, was awarded $225 by a Municipal court jury, late Monday afternoon. A cross-petition filed by the Busbooms asking $150 for negligence of Schweitzerr was dismissed.

Divorce Decrees—Divorce decrees issued in district court Tuesday included one to Martha M. Peters from Henry H. Peters whom she married December 23, 1920. Her grounds were cruelty. Also a decree was granted to Viola F. Anderson who asked a divorce from Clarence A. Anderson. Mrs. Anderson was awarded custody of their three children and $5 weekly as support money. The couple was married August 30, 1929.

Low Bidder On Well—Olson & Anderson, Oakland, Neb., was low bidder for sinking a well at the soldiers and sailors home at Milford, the board of control said Tuesday. The low bid, for the 200-foot well, was $3.25 a foot. Bids taken at the annual letting Monday for drug stocvks, electric light bulbs and oil and greases for the various institutions are not tabulated. About $5,000 worth of drugs, $2,500 worth of bulbs, 8,000 gallons of oil and a small quantity of grease are purchased annually.

Refuse Beverage Licenses—Beverage license applications of Fred Rogge, 1508 Washington street, and Frank Hamata, Agnew, were denied by the county commissioners Tuesday. Rogge's application for a license at the intersection of highway No. 2 and 56th street was protested in a petition signed by Cora Waltz, Route 8 and 51 others. Hamata's application for a license at Agnew was protested by C. H. Barry and 20 others who asked that licenses be granted to no one in the town of Agnew.

Schon Heads Association.—J. O. Schon was elected president of the Lincoln Electrical Contractors association at a meeting in the chamber of commerce Monday evening. About 30 attended. J. W. Bartlett was made vice president, Frank C. Cooper secretary and E. E. Gregg, treasurer. A committee on constitution and by-laws, composed of C. H. Cobleigh, E. G. Kingham and Rae Cameron, was named and will report at the next meeting, which will be held Monday night in the chamber of commerce. A discussion of the industrial code under which the group operates constituted the main business Monday evening.

Petition Amended — Amending their petition of May 11, in which they sought to enjoin the Nebraska railway commission and Attorney General Paul F. Good from enforcing an order lowering the minimum charge for electricity to rural customers, the Southern Nebraska Power company filed in Federal court Tuesday a charge that the new rates would be discriminatory, confiscatory, and would leave the company without adequate recourse at law.

Webber Committed — Herman Webber, 22 of Bostwick, Neb., who Tuesday morning completed a two to five year sentence in the reformatory for cattle theft, was taken on a capias by U. S. Deputy Marshal Frank Weygint before U. S. Commissioner H. J. Whitmore who issued a commitment for the Lincoln city jail. Webber was indicted for postal robbery in Bostwick and will be brought up before Federal Judge T. C. Munger for arraignment as soon as Judge Munger returns from St. Paul. Bond was placed at $1,500.

mit trials to get started in the other courts.

Thirty veniremen had been examined in the Conklin case when the forced recess was taken. Of the eighteen left in the box after dismissals for cause, ten were certain to be members of the jury.

Which ten it would be could not be ascertained until the court officials announced those stricken under peremptory challenge.

Proceedings Uneventful.

Tuesday morning's proceedings were uneventful. As on Monday, County Attorney Max G. Towle examined prospective jurors briefly, while Defense Attorney Max V. Beghtol made an exhaustive interrogation. Beghtol again inquired of the veniremen whether they have been approached relative to a constitutional amendment to abolish the office of state land commissioner. He asked also concerning prejudices about raising campaign funds.

The defense attorney stressed somewhat more than at the first day's hearing inquiries concerning jurors' acquaintance with Governor Bryan. Beghtol has several times indicated Bryan may be called by the defense as a witness at the trial.

Conklin again watched the proceedings with quiet interest. He sat as on Monday at the side of the other members of his counsel, Attorneys Glenn Foe and Lee Basye. Attorney General Paul Good and Assistant Attorney General William Wright were again seated on the prosecution side of the counsel table but Towle made all examinations.

Additional Veniremen.

Prospective jurors that have been examined in addition to the original box of twelve called Monday morning are:

George R Myers, 1234 K street.
Silas R. Davenport, 4718 Stockwell street.
William C Morton, 1912 K street.
Guy E Hadden, 944 Whittier street.
Chris Madson, Raymond.
Fred O. Lingenfelder, 3400 N street.
Oscar C Weiss, 2044 D street.
Otto Peterson, Davey.
Henry Schultz, Crete.
F. L. Hutchinson, Lincoln, Rt 3.
Alexander H. Rait, 1912 Harwood street.
Arthur B Gadd, 3185 Sheridan boulevard.
S Russel Holmes, 6024 Morrill avenue.
Ray Krueger, Roca.
Roy A Barrett, 6725 Havelock ave.
Boyd E. Craig, 3045 Q street.
Lester R Kendall, 1717 South Fourteenth street.
George Nelson, 1714 North Thirty-first street.

The long string of challenges for cause, all but two of which were made by the defense, started just before close of the Monday afternoon session, when Mr. Morton and Mr. Madson were excused as having opinions that the filing of charges against the defendant indicated he was guilty of some wrong.

Weiss Disqualified.

Mr. Weiss, a fuel and oil dealer, disqualified himself early in the Tuesday morning session when he stated he had already reached an opinion concerning guilt or innocence of the defendant. Judge Frost immediately sustained County Attorney Towle's challenge.

Mr. Gadd, who is in the printing business, went off next on a defense challenge, when he said he had no fixed opinion, but felt the defendant "should prove himself innocent of the charges." Mr. Holmes was challenged without any prior examination by Attorney Beghtol on the ground that he is employed by the state banking department. The court sustained the challenge when no resistance was offered by Towle.

Late in the morning session, Mr. Barrett, Mr. Craig and Mr. Kendall were removed, one right after the other. Mr. Barrett went off at the request of the defense because he has difficulty with his hearing. Challenge of Mr. Craig by the defense was sustained after he stated his acquaintance with some of the witnesses would influence his judgment. Mr. Kendall was removed at County Attorney Towle's request when Kendall said he had already formed an opinion in the case.

Deny Swenson Challenge.

Monday afternoon Defense Attorney Max V. Beghtol, who questioned all the prospective jurors about prejudices concerning the raising of campaign funds, requested also that William C. Swenson, 2324 O street, be removed for cause when Mr. Swenson declared: "My idea is that a man running for office should pay his own expenses; there wouldn't be so many running then." Judge Frost overruled this challenge after County Attorney Max G. Towle had resisted Swenson's removal.

When the list of those struck so far under peremptory challenge was announced at the close of the afternoon session by Deputy Clerk of the District Court Claude Burcham, Mr. Swenson's name was included in that list. Others thus removed were: Alex Lindeman, 303 South Twenty-sixth street; Elmer Heintzelman, 829 North Seventeenth street; and Harry A. Strayer, 2934 Clinton street.

The afternoon session was generally quiet and somewhat tedious as the detailed interrogation of each of the men proceeded.

Never Heard of Case.

Comedy relief was offered when Mr. Madson, stocky, sandy-haired well digger at Raymond, declared he never heard of the Conklin case.

"Don't the boys mention the case at Raymond?" Attorney Beghtol questioned.

"No," Madson replied.

"Then it must not be as big a case as we thought," Beghtol mused.

"Well, I don't go down town at nights," the well digger commented. "They always have lots going on nights, but I stay at home."

But Mr. Madson was not the only one who had never heard of the case. Mr. Strayer, a painter, said that he had never heard of it, and Guy E. Hadden, 944 Whittier street, a window trimmer, declared he had never even heard of Conklin before.

Attorneys Clash.

The opposing attorneys engaged in several brief verbal tilts.

One came when Attorney Beghtol, describing the nature of the charge against Conklin to Mr. Swenson, stated: "It is claimed he defrauded the state of money under guise of raising a campaign fund."

County Attorney Towle leaped to his feet: "We don't say under what guise he took it. He might have used it for groceries for all we know."

Beghtol excepted to Towle's statement, and Judge Frost sustained the objection.

Later Beghtol asked Swenson if he is acquainted with Assistant Attorney General William Wright. "Mr. Wright," the defense attorney declared, "has announced his candidacy for the attorney general's office, based on the assumption he is the instrumentality for driving Mr. Conklin out of office."

Claims Statement Improper.

"That statement is improper," Towle interposed.

"Wright has referred to prosecution of this case in an interview given the press," Beghtol persisted.

Towle renewed his objections to the defense reference to Wright, and Judge Frost sustained the objection.

In interrogation of Silas R. Davenport, 4718 Stockwell street, Attorney Beghtol asked the prospective juror if he is acquainted with "The Young Democrat," or with Howard Holtzendorff and Lester Danielson, members of the Conklin janitorial staff who published "The Young Democrat." Davenport answered in the negative.

"Have you," Attorney Beghtol continued, "ever been solicited by anyone to buy a framed picture of Governor Bryan?"

"No," Davenport answered.

"I object to the question," Towle declared.

"The witness has already answered," Judge Frost ruled.

In the Battle of the Argonne Forest, in which more than a score of American divisions participated, the French and American artillery fired more than 3,400,000 rounds of ammunition. The American forces alone fired more ammunition than was used by both sides during the entire four-year Civil war in America.

To take care of this emergency she was provided with a set of false ones. When she discards them she will be one of the very few persons who ever discarded false teeth to return to the use of natural teeth.

Strange little creatures that seem to live nowhere except on snow or ice have presented naturalists with a problem that none seems able to answer. These "insects," they are not true insects, are seen nowhere except on snow or ice, and they seem to thrive on it. Nobody knows what they subsist on, or how they live.

Another race of snow-frequenting creatures are the springtails, or Collembola. They live beneath the snow but come to the surface periodically, especially in warmer temperatures when the air is moist.

BURNED BODY OF GIRL FOUND IN A GARAGE

later her body was found in the garage by Mrs. C. E. Mahoney, owner of an apartment house, as she showed the garage to prospective tenants.

Police Work Feverishly.

Police of Sacramento, the state capital worked feverishly to solve the mystery of her death and to learn what happened in the two and a half hours that intervened between the time Virginia left her home and the time her body was found.

Just how she was lured or forced into the garage was a puzzling element in the tragedy. Police held one theory that she may have known the murderer.

One clue to the identity of the killer came with the discovery today of two fingerprints on the half-filled gallon jug of kerosene which was used in the "torch murder."

The fingerprints exonerated three young acquaintances of Miss Johnson, a Junior Leaguer and leader in state capital social circles.

Several of Miss Johnson's auburn hairs and bloodstains were found on the cement block.

All but a few fragments of her white sport dress had been consumed by the flames.

No Screams Heard.

District Attorney Neil McAllister ordered questioning of all "boy friends" of the murdered beauty.

"No screams were heard by neighbors who undoubtedly would have heard an outcry," said McAllister. "This strengthens the theory that Miss Johnson probably met an acquaintance who lured her into the vacant garage.

"We are checking every possible theory, however. The girl may have been the victim of a prowler."

J. D. Stewart, a neighbor of Treasurer Johnson, reported that a heavy set swarthy-complexioned man, about 40 years old, had been seen prowling about the garage yesterday.

Leonard Titus, 18-year-old Sacramento junior college student and boarder in an apartment adjoining the murder garage, also told police that a salesman, with a heavy foreign accent, loitered in the neighborhood yesterday after failing to make any sales.

Titus Exonerated.

Titus, an acquaintance of the girl at the junior college, was one of the three youths questioned and exonerated early today by police. Two other youths questioned were Robert Meckfassel, 23, former junior college student, and James K. Cogswell of San Francisco. All three readily volunteered their fingerprints.

The concrete block, used to keep the door of the garage closed, apparently was wielded by the murderer to fell the girl when she attempted to fight free.

Members of Miss Johnson's family said they knew of no love affairs in her life.

Memorial Day History Traced For Rotarians

Robert Armstrong, Former State Legion Head Also Outlines Organization's Ideals.

Rotarians Tuesday noon heard Robert M. Armstrong of Auburn, former state commander of the American Legion, trace the history of Memorial Day and point out the ideals and hopes of the American Legion.

He read the original order of General John Logan issued in 1868 proclaiming the first Memorial Day and pointed out that it has come to be a day for remembering not only war dead but all dead.

He pointed out the difference in the attitude of America's World war veterans and that of other countries

He started active participation in educational work in 1914 as science teacher and coach at Weeping Water high school. He served in the same capacity at Columbus high school in 1916 and the following year he started a five-year term as principal of Columbus hich. He became superintendent at David City in 1922 and was an instructor in the University of Nebraska summer session in 1929.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb, with their two sons, Dick 16 and Herschel 9, plan to move to Lincoln this summer. His official duties with the NHSAA start June 1. The election was for three years and carries with it an annual salary of $3,000.

disarmament negotiations with the other powers.

Two Ways to Achieve Security.

Davis outlined two ways by which he said he believed security could be achieved. One way, he said, is by an overwhelming superiority in armaments, coupled perhaps, with reinsurance in the form of alliances.

"The other way," he said, "is to increase the power of defense and decrease the power of attack. The American government believes that only by following the second way can the peace and progress of the world and the material security of each country be truly promoted.

"The United States is not disposed and should not be expected to participate in the solution of problems that are essentially European, or to assume in any way the responsibility for the enforcement by European powers of the application which they may assume in a disarmament convention.

"Nevertheless, the United States does not wish to stand in the way of an agreement that may bring political appeasement in Europe."

Davis expressed the conviction that the problem of disarmament was susceptible to a practical solution.

Litvinoff said he believed that the present non-reconciliation of divergent opinion made it impossible to find a solution of the problem of disarmament and declared: "Armed peace is only an armistice—it is a negation of the basic principal of the Kellogg anti-war pact."

Then he suggested complete renunciation of armaments.

In suggesting that the conference be made a "permanent conference of peace" he warned the world that this machinery is necessary because there are dangers of a bloody war "or rather a series of wars which include all continents and all humanity."

May Water Records Broken In Lincoln

Peak Consumption For One Day This Year Set Monday at 13,308,700 Gallons.

With two days still remaining, all Lincoln water records for May have been shattered, Paul W. Doerr, head of the water department, said Tuesday.

The Monday consumption of 13,308,700 gallons surpassed the previous seasonal high of 12,263,900 set on May 19. Seventeen of the 28 days have made a record of more than 10,000,000 gallons per day, and only one of the other days dropped below 8,000,000.

The all time record consumption for one day was 17,000,000 gallons in June 1933.

According to Mr. Doerr, consumers have no fear of using as much water as they want. "The only thing that concerns me," he declared, "is that they do not remove the nozzles or sprinklers and allow water to run directly from the open hose. This reduces pressure and prevents others from getting the water they need."

MILLION DOLLAR STATE FUND FOR RELIEF ADVISED

State Treasurer George E. Hall is opposed to issuance of bonds by the state of Nebraska for any purpose, and he does not favor any amendment to the state constitution which would remove the present barrier to such indebtedness. However, he thinks the next legislature should make an outright appropriation of a million to a million and a half dollars of state funds to help take care of relief needs during 1935 and 1936.

"Under the plan formulated by the federal government, states and their local subdivisions are expected to carry their share of the relief load," Mr Hall said Tuesday. "Nebraska is able to do its part and should not hold back merely because the constitution forbids the issuing of bonds.

"We now have a considerable excess of funds in the treasury, and I believe it would be possible to appropriate such an amount as I have suggested without any material increase in the state tax levy.

"If we don't do this, the national government may step out and leave Nebraska to take care of its needy people without federal aid. We should not like that to happen, and in order to make sure it won't happen the state had better take some action to assume a part of the burden, instead of depending on Uncle Sam and the counties, cities, villages and local charitable and welfare organizations to aid the distressed."

Hall received an inquiry from a financial publication asking about a report that various organizations in Nebraska are boosting a constitutional amendment to be submitted under the initiative, authorizing a $5,000,000 bond issue by the state. He replied that he did not believe the proposed amendment would receive approval of the voters, even if sufficient signers were obtained to petitions to bring it to a vote.

Retail Stores Will Be Closed Memorial Day

Lincoln retail establishments will be closed all day Wednesday, Memorial day, in accordance with the custom for the day, Fred Wells, chairman of the retail subdivision of the chamber of commerce, announced Tuesday.

BANK DIVIDEND.

An RFC loan of $7,181 obtained for the failed Farmers' State bank at Henderson is enabling the state receivership division to pay its depositors another 25 per cent dividend. This makes a total of 85 per cent, or $24,413, which has been returned to them.

OBITUARY

Funeral services for Rufus Monroe Stark, who died May 23 at Portland, Ore., were held Saturday at Portland with interment at Lincoln Memorial park cemetery at Portland. Masonic rites were conducted at the grave.

Mr Stark was born in Green county, Ill., Oct. 17, 1854, the son of Joseph Presley Stark, a native of Illinois, and Ann Elvira (Demotte) Stark, a native of Indiana. He was married March 21, 1880 to Sarah W. Weeks.

Mr. Stark was in the retail grocery business in Riverton, Neb., from 1787 to 1900. Later he was employed by Grainger Bros company of Lincoln, living at Holdrege, Neb., where he resided from 1900 to 1919. In 1919 he moved to Portland, Ore., where he had a retail grocery for a number of years. Last September, he retired, and made his home with a daughter, Mrs. Stella Murphy.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sarah W. Stark; two daughters, Mrs. Stella Murphy of Portland and Mrs. J. C. Ridnour of Lincoln; and a son, Leslie M. Stark of Portland. He was a past master in the Masonic order and had been a member for 52 years.

SOVIET OFFER OF BONDS FOR SALE IN U.S. STUDIED

Europe Asked to Pay June Installments and Past Non-Payments.

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—As diplomatic wires hummed with a dun from Uncle Sam to European war debtors, the administration sought today an X-ray of the teeth in the Johnson act, the measure banning debt defaulters from dealings in the American money market.

Attorney General Cummings, acting on an administration request, was preparing a ruling on an offer in this country of "soviet union 7 per cent gold bonds." He previously had listed the U. S. S. R. as a defaulter under the Johnson act.

The state department caused diplomatic wires to hum with a direct call upon all war debtors to pay up not only their coming installments but also past non-payments.

The usual reminder was handed to the envoys of 13 debtor nations, notifying them of installments due June 15. The total due, including amounts in arrears, is close to $500,000,000.

This action was held to have added significance in view of the virtual completion by President Roosevelt of his war debt message.

Obligation of Soviet Union.

The attorney general's study of the soviet bond offer was precipitated by an advertisement appearing in a New York newspaper which listed the securities as a "direct obligation of this nation (soviet union)."

Although no other nation has made any public offering of securities since the attorney general handed down his ruling on May 5, in which the token payers were not listed as among the debt defaulters, his latest decision appeared likely to have wide future effect.

The Johnson act carries liabilities for those buying as well as selling securities of defaulting governments.

State department officials declined overnight to confirm reports from Moscow that the soviet government had rejected an American proposal for settlement of the debt problem.

The principal item in America's claim against the soviet government rests in a loan of $187,000,000 made to the Kerensky government before its overthrow.

DRIVERS GIVEN SAFETY AWARDS

Mayor Praises Kiwanis Club's Safe Driving Campaign.

Mayor Fenton B. Fleming congratulated the Kiwanis club for sponsoring the "safe driving" campaign and declared that co-operation of all groups contributes to public safety, in addressing the annual safety award dinner Monday evening at the chamber of commerce.

Present was most of the 217 commercial drivers of Lincoln who were honored for safe operation of their machines, many receiving awards in recognition of two years of driving without an accident.

The mayor, stressing the necessity of paying attention to the job of driving an automotive vehicle, likened it to a team of sixty or 100 horses, with the danger of getting the lines mixed. He pointed out that there are 4,200 alleys and that number of street intersections in the city declaring "it is essential that you drive carefully to avoid accidents at these numerous potential accident spots."

The mayor recommended that all drivers be commissioned as officers to see that all traffic rules are kept, for "obedience to all rules means less accidents." He also called attention to the new method of laning O street to facilitate traffic flow, and expressed satisfaction with the city-wide co-operation in complying with the brake and light testing program.

Caution Is Needed.

Harold C. Mardis, Kiwanis president, announced the awards to the drivers representing nineteen Lincoln firms, in numbers ranging from one to fifty-five. The Iowa-Nebraska Light & Power company claimed the most certificates, and the drivers for the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph company were next with forty-five. Of the 217 awards, 168 were for two years of perfect driving.

"Nearly four-fifths of all accidents occur when the driver is a man over 25 years old, while driving on a dry surfaced road in good condition, and driving in a straight path," Mr. Mardis said, in calling attention to the fact that careful driving is needed.

Claude S. Wilson was toastmaster, introducing the Thomas male quartet which sang several numbers. The quartet included: Russell Cummings, Gerald Mott, Vern Harbert and Lester Rumbaugh.

Annual Danish Picnic Will Be Held Sunday

The annual picnic of Danish residents of Lincoln and vicinity will be held Sunday at Pioneers park, under the auspices of the Danish Lutheran church, Danish Brotherhood lodge No. 84, and the Danish Sisterhood lodge No. 90. The picnickers will assemble at the church, Twenty-third and N streets, at 10:30 o'clock.

The program includes a short religious service at the park at 11 o'clock, a picnic dinner, and games in the afternoon. Rev. S. S. Nielsen will be in charge of the church service.

Mrs. Charles Zink, assisted by Mrs. Charles Robertsen, and Mrs. J. F. Meyer, will be in charge of the dinner and table arrangements. Other committees:

OUTSTATE GROUPS ASKING FOR ROADS

Delegations of road boosters from different parts of the state are again becoming numerous at the capital, seeking to have their pet projects included by Governor Bryan in the 1934 list of improvements. One group from northern Nebraska, numbering more than half a hundred, waited upon the governor Monday afternoon and urged the completion of state highway No. 7 between Ainsworth and Dunning, a north and south route.

This section, about 70 miles in length, has been brought to grade over a portion of its extent. The petitioners represented that it is much needed for transportation of live stock, and particularly at this time for animals being brought from South Dakota into Nebraska to obtain pasture for the summer.

County Clerk E. N. Demaray of Blaine county and C. N. Harr of Ainsworth presented the request. The governor replied that, while funds available are limited, he would try to provide for this improvement at the earliest possible date.

ADVANTAGES OF FARM LIFE TOLD

G. E. Farrell and Mrs. Nellie Benson Give 4-H Addresses.

The farm as an advantageous place for boys and girls to live served as the theme of the Monday afternoon and evening program of the nineteenth annual 4-H club week at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture. The several hundred rural youths heard George E. Farrell, head of the wheat section in the AAA at Washington, and Mrs. Nellie Benson, chairman of the state board of control, praise farm life.

Local leaders of 4-H clubs were challenged by Farrell to use their influence and energy in developing a good community program. "Communities," he said, "are good because of the people living in them."

Plenty of Wheat.

Speaking about present drouth conditions, Farrell told the club members and local leaders that there will still be plenty of wheat left in the country this year despite the poor crop conditions. He strongly endorsed intelligent farm planning to meet the market needs and spoke of the necessity of developing a strong recreational program in each community to serve during leisure time.

The opportunities of farm boys and girls was emphasized by Mrs. Benson in her talk. She told of the need of keeping busy and the problem the state board of control now faces at the penitentiary with factories taken out and men idle.

Three song groups from Lancaster, Seward and Otoe counties appeared on the Monday afternoon program also. Ruth Pratt Gard, Beaver Crossing told about some of her early club experiences while Charles Patterson spoke about "ethics of leadership." The first day's activities closed Monday evening with the the annual University 4-H club entertainment. Dean W. W. Burr welcomed the 4-H club members.

Carolina Coast Is Lashed by Storm

Thousands of Dollars Damage to Crops, Property and Boats.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 29—(AP)—A storm which lashed the Carolina coast with almost hurricane ferocity appeared to be spending itself in the interior today, leaving thousands of dollars damage to crops, property and small shipping craft.

Whipping this old seaport at a velocity of 45 miles an hour, the wind, accompanied by torrential rain, swept away a number of wharves, inundated the lower part of the city, and sunk a 65-foot yacht. Many smaller boats were washed away or sunk.

After striking Charleston, the storm seemed to veer inland where high winds which tore down trees crippled communication systems, and wrought havoc with crops.

At Florence, an inland city, the wind reached 45 miles an hour. Throughout the eastern part of South Carolina telephone and telegraph communication was not reestablished until the early hours today.

Miss Robbins Pupils Presented in Recital

Choral groups and vocal soloists from the eith Lucille Robbins studios presented a delightful and varied musical program before an audience of more than 350 in the Cornhusker hotel Monday evening.

Highlight of the program was the presentation of choruses from Gaul's "The Holy City." Choruses from Balfe's "The Bohemian Girl" also were presented.

A quartet, composed of Wesley Clark, Lloyd Ruliffson, J. L. Heilman and H. R. Fahrenbruch, sang "Bendemeer's Stream," an old Irish melody arranged by Brewer.

A male chorus of sixteen voices sang Sullivan's "The Lost Chord."

The program follows:

"The Bohemian Girl," "In the Gipsy's Life," "Silence, Lady Moon," Follow with "Heart, Hand and Arm," Balfe; Bel Canto chorus.

"Blue Danube Waltz Song," Strauss; Janis Montelle Goodin.

"The Cry of the First Bird," Guion; "The Little Damozel," Novello; Pauline Frantz.

"The Sailor's Life," old English; "Du bist wie eine Blume," Liszt; The Green-Eyed Dragon," Charles; J. L. Heilman.

"The Lark," Rubinstein; Hilda Dickau.

"Summer Rain," Willeby, Charles Ensign.

"Bendemeer's Stream," Wesley Clark, Lloyd Ruliffson, J. L. Heilman, H. R. Fahrenbruch.

Aria, "O, Had I Jubal's Lyre," from "Joshua," Handel; Virginia Sill.

"Serenade," Schubert; Lloyd Ruliffson; cello obbligato by Frances Spencer.

"Carmena Waltz Song," Wilson; Janet Austin.

"The Lost Chord," Wesley Clark, C. H. Ogle, Lloyd Ruliffson, Earle McMunn, Jack Kearns, Ivan Johansen, A. K. McClelland, Fred Lacy, Leonard Schlytern, Carl Christensen, Harold Peterson, Marion F. [illegible], J. L. Heilman, H. R. Fahrenbruch, A. Lynn Myers.

"Goodnight, Sweetest Child," Abt; Barbara Jean Robbins.

"The Mighty Deep," Jude, H. R. Fahrenbruch.

"In the Time of Roses," Reichardt; Austin, Barbara Jean Robbins, Eleanor Peterson, Virginia Sill, Lois Ogle.

"Lo, Here the Gentle Lark," Bishop; Janis Montelle Goodin, flute obbligato by L. H. [illegible].

"The Broken Ring," German folk song; "Cavatina, Even Bravest Heart May Swell," from "Faust," Gounod; Fred Lacy.

"The Wind's in the South Today," Scott; Ruth Jefferson.

"List, the Cherubic Host," (treble voices, soprano and baritone, chorus obbligato;) "Thine Is the Kingdom," "Great and Glorious."

FALLS CITY DEATH.

(Special to The Star.)

FALLS CITY, Neb., May 29—Walter J. Farmer, 38, who had been in the auto painting business here several years, died Sunday. His widow and son survive.

MRS. THALER IS DEAD AT AGE 96

One of Nebraska's Early Pioneers First Came Here in 1856.

Mrs. Pamela Thaler, 96, one of Nebraska's earliest pioneers, died at the home of a daughter, Miss Florence Thaler, 2537 S street, at 11:15 o'clock Monday night. Mrs. Thaler had not been well since last winter. Had she lived until July, she would have been 97 years old.

MRS. PAMELA THALER.

Mrs. Thaler first came to Nebraska from Indiana, her birthplace, in 1856. She came across the Missouri river to Nebraska City on the Fourth of July in that year with her parents. Several years later she was married to W. M. Thaler, who in Illinois had been a neighbor of Abraham Lincoln.

In 1880 the Thalers moved to Palmyra and in 1894 Mr. Thaler died. In 1900 Mrs. Thaler moved to South Dakota, later living in California and Oregon. She came to Lincoln to make her home in 1915.

Mrs. Thaler was fond of recalling the early pioneer days and remembered Nebraska City when it consisted of a block house and a few stores. She always remembered an evening when John Brown with an escaping party of slaves stopped at her parents' homestead on Four Mile Creek.

She is survived by her daughter and a son, William of Norfolk, and two grandchildren. The body is at Troyer's.

Largest Barn in U. S. Is Destroyed by Fire

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Mont., May 29—(AP)—The famed Ringling barn, claimed to be one of the largest in the United States, is in ruins as a result of a fire. It belonged to the Ringlings of circus fame.

The structure, 500 feet long, had stalls for 200 head of horses and 200 cows, and a hay capacity of 200 tons.

It was virtually empty when the fire broke out.

Workers Escape Death As Gas Pipe Explodes

GREEN RIVER, Wyo., May 29—(AP)—A crew of 10 men working on a gas pipe line near here narrowly escaped death late yesterday when the pipe buckled and exploded.

Five of the men were hurt, one seriously, but physicians believed all would recover.

An ominous hissing preceded the blast and after the explosion one ragged end of the tube, 100 feet long thrashed and whipped about in the air like a huge, angry snake.

Legion Passes Universal Draft Resolution; Believes Adoption Would Be A Stimulus For Peace

Demand for the enactment of the universal draft law, which would conscript all man power and all necessary industrial power and wealth in the event of war, was voiced by the local post of the American Legion in a resolution passed at the regular meeting in the Cornhusker hotel Monday evening.

The post, taking action on a resolution introduced by Rolla C. Van Kirk, states that "such action would take profit out of war" and would furnish the surest guarantee of a lasting peace for the American nation.

Oppose War Attitude.

"The American Legion views with deep concern the growth of opinion as voiced in the press, current magazines and interviews as to the likelihood of an impending war," the resolution reads, "and the Legion is also aware of an increased and intense public interest in the profits and the allege intrigues of munition manufacturers in fomenting war as evidenced in recent publications culminating in the present congressional investigation."

The action further states that "the American Legion is best equipped of all organizations in the nation to discourage the opinion that war is inevitable and is best equipped to point out to American youth that war is not a romantic adventure, but rather a horrible tragedy."

"The Legion reaffirms its position in favor of an adequate defense and reaffirms, as well, its belief in individual duty to bear arms in time of war," the resolution continues, "and the Legion pledges its utmost support to combat this growing belief that war is inevitable."

Copies of the resolution will be sent to President Franklin D. Roosevelt and to Nebraska's senators and representatives.

J. E. Gardner of Chicago electrical engineer of the Burlington railroad, told the men of the non-stop dash made by the "Zephyr."

Billy Wolfe entertained with ukelele numbers. Louis C. Jensen reported on plans for the Memorial day observance and Nate Grossman spoke on plans for the parade. Richard Oddie reported on the baseball committee work.

Commander Herman R. Jobst announced that the next meeting of the group on June 11 would be a "dutch lunch" to which all legionnaires of the county are invited. The affair will be held in the Lindell hotel.

Second Thomas Meeting Is Bombarded With Gas

ROCKFORD, Ill., May 29—(AP)—For the second time within a week, a meeting addressed by Norman Thomas, socialist leader, has been bombarded with tear gas.

As Thomas spoke to some 1,200 persons in Lyran hall last night, a large tear gas bomb crashed through a window, struck a spectator and exploded.

A near panic prevailed as the gas spread through the crowded hall. Men, choking and blinded, trampled women and children. Others dropped two stories into the street.

Thomas called his audience together in the street and proceeded with his address.

Seniors of the Teachers College high school will give their play, "Introducing Susan," at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Temple theater.

5 Young Outlaws Held in Oklahoma

Three Texas Fugitives and Two Accused Kidnapers Nabbed.

PAWHUSKA, Okla., May 29—(AP)—Five young men who sped over Oklahoma highways, kidnaping six persons and stealing three automobiles were in the toils of the law today.

Three of the five were fugitives from the Sherman, Tex., jail, where they slugged a guard and fled. The three, George E. Droddy, 19, of Pineville, Mo.; Adrian Petty, 16, of Kilgore, Tex., and Roy Batts, 21, of Sherman, were arrested here last night in a motor car they had seized from Phillip Aigner, a farmer of Perry, Okla.

Although armed with two pistols, they offered no resistance. Warned that the trio had been seen driving through Yale, the officers were on the alert for the fugitives.

Forced To Accompany Trio.

Aigner was forced to accompany the trio in his own automobile, after one previously seized from Robert Jones of Dallas had burned out a bearing. Jones was released unharmed two miles north of Guthrie.

While these three were on their brief tour of terror, two other men were arrested at Sayre for kidnaping four men. The pair gave their names as James Dixon, Indianapolis, and Howard Johnson, Denver. They were accused of stealing a motor car and kidnaping B. C. Butler, Tommy Dyson, Glenn Williams of Elk City, Wash., and O. J. Hannington of Spokane. The four were released and the car recovered.

AN OFFICIAL CONVINCING TEST THAT SHOULD GUIDE YOUR MOTOR OIL PURCHASES

Here are the Representatives of the Contest Board of the AAA who supervised every detail of the test and attested to the records made.

CONTEST BOARD AAA CERTIFIED TEST

AAA SANCTION NO. 3001

CONOCO

. . . New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil conclusively points the way to definite motor protection and economical consumption, under AAA certification . . . .

HERE is a statement about oil that for the first time gives you understandable and acceptable facts—and proves them. Claimed values, no matter how well known the product is, do not lubricate your motor. Only the form and structure of the oil itself can do that.

New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has these features: Two to four times the film strength, much greater lubricating ability under crankcase dilution, increased penetrative oiliness, the "Hidden Quart that stays up in your motor and never drains away." Last, but not least, the minimum of carbon deposit and sludge formation.

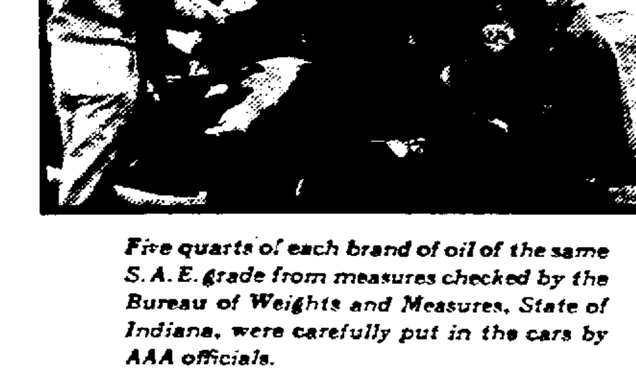
Conoco engineers knew what this new oil could do—and dared to put it to test under the unbiased, official supervision of the Contest Board, American Automobile Association—500 miles a day average, 50 miles an hour speed, until the motors were wrecked. It was a trial of the rate of the consumption of oil and of motor protection. On the fourth day, Oil No. 4 dried up and the motor screamed its death cry, having gone 1,713.2 miles. About an hour later, Oil No. 6, at 1,764.4 miles wrecked its motor, and a little over 50 miles farther, the motor of Oil No. 5 cracked up—three well-known oils had marked up their best record.

On the fifth day, Oil No. 1, completing 2,266.8 miles, went out, leaving the test a duel between the two remaining contestants. A day and another day passed. On the eighth day, Oil No. 3 ruined the motor it had safeguarded for 3,318.8 miles. The last rival, though worthy, was out.

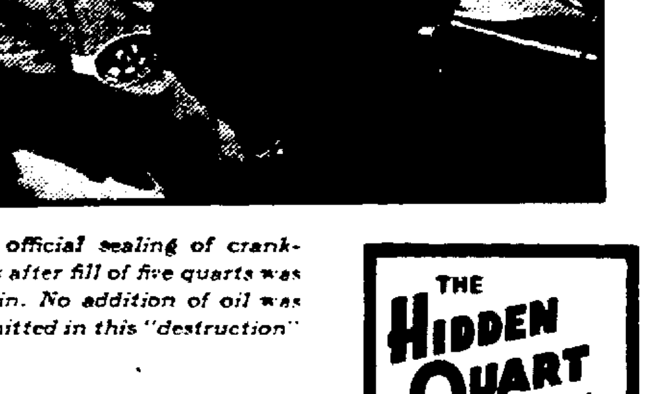
Then a lone car, representing Oil No. 2, which was New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, swung around and around at 50 miles an hour, day after day, until, when a connecting rod went out, it had completed nearly 5,000 miles—exactly 4,729 miles! And this on a total of just five quarts of oil—showing two and one-fifth times the average mileage of all other five oils and 42.5% or 1,410.2 miles better than its nearest and best competitor.

Surely, you need no better proof than this. Certainly, whether you drive a 1934 model or one of previous years, you are interested in this proof of remarkably low consumption and greater motor protection. Drive into any Red Triangle Station, fill with New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. Reduce your repair bills. Get the economy in both miles and dollars from this known winner.

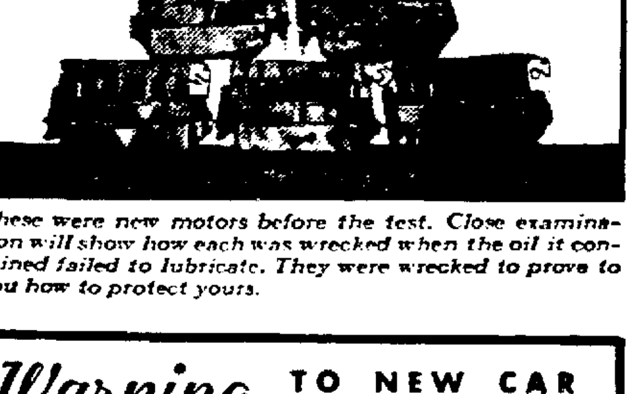
Much scientific data was secured by the AAA official in each car thru use of a POTENTIOMETER for recording temperatures.



Five quarts of each brand of oil of the same S.A.E. grade from measures checked by the Bureau of Weights and Measures, State of Indiana, were carefully put in the cars by AAA officials.



The official sealing of crankcases after fill of five quarts was put in. No addition of oil was permitted in this "destruction" test.



These were new motors before the test. Close examination will show how each was wrecked when the oil it contained failed to lubricate. They were wrecked to prove to you how to protect yours.

THE HIDDEN QUART STAYS UP IN YOUR MOTOR AND NEVER DRAINS AWAY

Warning TO NEW CAR OWNERS . . . .

Some car manufacturers are using new types of bearings which will stand greater pressures and temperatures, resulting from increased power and speed. New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has been exhaustively tested on these new bearings. The results show that it gives them greater protection against damage than many straight mineral oils now on the market.

Protect your new car by using the motor oil you can be sure of.

DOG DAYS.

REMEMBER, dog days! Those hot, listless, sluggish days in late summer, when after a wrestle with the heat, you don't care a whoop whether school keeps or not which is another way of saying that listlessness has you in its grip. Dog days hit us about sixty days prematurely. Perhaps we should blame it on the Zephyr; but the truth is, it's just the nature of the brute.

Only a recollection that somewhere, some time, some poet said something about June keeps us going.

May hasn't contributed anything worthwhile.

Here it is shoving into summer, and customary showers which court the most gorgeous of blooms have been missing. Here it is the fag end of the season, when a special quality to the air fills one with an ambition to go out and clean up on a couple of lions, and the body rebels even if the spirit is willing. We do not mean to complain. Its a good world, after all, filled with good people, interesting sights and places.

There always is the comforting assurance that we struggle through, we meaning all of us. Dog days must have their purpose. The lush growth of lazy streams, which covers the surface of the water with a green coating, always in boyhood days, when fishing occupied the time, added a touch of uncertainty and mystery to the deep pools. We never could tell what was lurking there, until the bait was tossed in, and you waited patiently for the bobber to reveal whether there were any hungry fish there. It was good to doze on the bank, with its soft covering of grass, with a hat shading the face and eyes, to think of everything and nothing, principally nothing. Come to think about it, dog days were not so bad, after all.

Just now, it seems to be dog days in Washington. Congress has been trying to wind up its labors since the first of May, and it seems no closer to completion of its task than it was when it started in. The contrast between this congress and the one which preceded it, is startling. All of the machinery of the recovery program was set up in less than a hundred days, or in less than three months. Decisions of the greatest importance had to be made quickly. Vast expenditures were approved, and new methods injected. But congress took it all without batting an eyelid, and the impression created throughout the country was one of action.

Since January, the present congress has been grinding away. And except that its members are restless, and are anxious to return home for the approaching election, it could continue on for another six months with tasks incompleted. In that situation, more clearly than in any other way, may be seen the progress of recovery. A year ago, conditions were far too desperate to permit debate. The cry was for action, and it was met by a comprehensive plan presented by President Roosevelt. If America were as sick now as it was then, it would be more submissive, and more willing to accept leadership. It is beginning to assert itself, however; to project its own ideas and to cling tenaciously to them.

Even at Washington, it would seem there has been no close distinction between emergency action and the permanent pattern for American living. Most of the legislation of a year ago was to meet the specific conditions. It was to be assumed that when, and if the patient recovered, those emergency steps would be abandoned. But there were certain evils and abuses, primarily responsible for the sickness, which were to be wiped out. Much of the congressional confusion arises from the fact that congress is inclined to accept the emergency as a permanent situation, and proceeds to deal with it as such, while the White House desires a period to enable the country to move ahead on its own initiative.

DIPLOMAS—FIVE DOLLARS.

IS A college diploma worth $5?
A large number of seniors at the University of Colorado answer "No." They have petitioned the board of trustees to rescind the mandatory purchase of a sheepskin at that price.

Old Man Hard Times was presented in very black colors by the soon-to-be graduates. They even argued that a simple piece of paper costing $1 or $2 be substituted for the traditionally ornate certificate.

The students overlooked an important feature, however. Judging by the little that can be shown for their four years of "study" by many graduates, the diploma really ought to be kept as evidence.

And then, some of the professors might have been induced to subscribe the fees in order to get rid of some of their pupils.

AN OLD STANDBY PROVES ITS WORTH.

HOUSEWIVES throughout the middle west are reported to be buying and using more lard in their kitchens, particularly for shortening in biscuits, pies cakes, fritters, cookies, and the like

Their grandmothers never knew any other material for shortening in doughs and pastries unless it was beef suet which they sometimes "rendered out" to cook with. And, as everybody is well aware, those grandmothers couldn't be beat when it came to preparing tasty viands They turned out mighty good provender with their old-fashioned wood-burning cookstoves and their honest-to-goodness recipes which required every ingredient to be mixed in by hand

This isn't saying anything against the present generation of household cooks, they know their culinary art, too, as candid husbands stand ready to testify. Indeed, the modern kitchen queens are quite finicky about having things just right when they come upon the table. Biscuits must be plump and feathery white, with a slight trace of brown to top them off. pies must have that melt-in-your-mouth quality; and so on.

In a region which grows and markets hogs by the hundreds of thousands annually, as Nebraska does, it is gratifying that one of the principal products of the pork industry has thus established itself on a standard of par excellence. So far as pork chops, sausage, bacon, ham, and tenderloin—yes, and pickled pig's feet, too—are concerned, they stand supreme in their respective fields.

What middle-aged man or woman is there today lacking fond memories of "doughnut time" in childhood when mother stood over a kettle of sizzling hot fat as she dumped rings or twisted masses of sweetened dough into it and fished them out again after they had swelled to giant size? Did anybody ever see more magnificent crullers than those? And what was it that made them so plump, toothsome, and brittle? Lard, my brother; lard not only engulfed them in the cooking process, but also played its part in the composition of the doughnut itself.

Let no base pretender henceforth seek to usurp the domain which belongs to hog fat. Long live the rightful king in the realm of pork: may he reign as "lard" of all he surveys, with no one his right to dispute.

BETTER PULL ALTOGETHER.

AMERICANS can't very well hold up their hands in dismay over the acts of violence reported from Havana in view of the serious disturbances which have taken place recently, involving loss of lives and much destruction of property, in Toledo, Minneapolis, Cleveland, Detroit, and other large cities. This country seems to have its full share of mob troubles to contend with and is in no position to lecture any of the smaller neighbors on that account.

Respect for law and order seems to have been greatly diminished in the past few years. So long as we had national prohibition the wets were inclined to blame this condition on the attempt to control people's personal habits by statute. Now folks can get what they want to drink, at least in the states which made the greatest uproar against enforced dryness; but the change seems to have worked no change for the better. In fact, the worst outbreaks of mass lawlessness have occurred in the states which were the quickest to do away with prohibition and throw the gates wide open for consumption of alcoholic beverages.

It looks as though national psychology, both individually and in the aggregate, must be altered before much improvement in this state of affairs can be looked for. So long as any group considers itself above the law and acts accordingly, the public welfare will continue to be in jeopardy. Rioting in the centers of industry, stoppage of milk trucks and dumping their contents on public highways and pulling judges off the bench and dragging them to a near lynching are all manifestations of the same evil tendency of the times—the purpose to substitute class dictatorship for majority rule by all the people.

It is very doubtful whether any single one of the many strikes that have taken place in recent weeks or months brought real benefits to any of the men taking part in them. The loss in wages ran into hundreds of millions of dollars, while the business of employers was damaged even more by the interference with production and sales. The ability of employers to furnish jobs and pay wages was thus curtailed. At the same time, the lack of buying power of men on strike operated to cut down sales of goods produced in other industries.

When the resources of America in men, money, and industrial genius are united, there is no other nation on earth which can equal us in the production of wealth. By frittering away our strength in economic civil war we are making it possible for countries which are our trade rivals to gain an advantage over us in the markets of the world.

THE SPEARFISH BRANCH.

THE Burlington has asked of the interstate commerce commission permission to abandon its branch from Englewood to Spearfish in the Black Hills, saying that it has lost money on this line for a number of years. Residents of Spearfish and surrounding territory are protesting against abandonment, saying that they would be greatly inconvenienced if not ruined by such action and denying that the road is losing money.

Why the company should desire to cease operating a paying property, is not apparent, so it must be presumed that the line has ceased to make a profit. When this line was first built, thirty-five or more years ago, it was traversed by practically everyone who visited the hills. That was before the advent of the automobile, and the Spearfish line, with a beautiful waterfall in sight presented to view some of the most picturesque scenery in that part of the country.

But the automobile has captured the tourist business that formerly went to the railroad and trucks have taken away much of the freight business, so it is proposed to abandon a line that was built at very great cost. It is the same story that has become all too common in the past few years. People withdraw their patronage from the railroads and are then grieved and shocked when it is suggested that a certain branch is losing instead of making money and permission is asked to abandon it.

It is unreasonable, however, to expect companies to continue operating lines which lose money over any considerable period and people may as well reconcile themselves to the fact that within the next few years branch lines in increasing numbers will be abandoned and junked. They were highly useful when constructed and of course made money over a long term of years. But the internal combustion engine has superseded them to such an extent that they are no longer profitable.

The people in the various towns that are being left without rail service would like very much to retain it for very obvious reasons, not the least of which is the amount of taxes paid in each year. Their protests are in vain when there is shown to be a deficit in revenue.

BEFORE THE DAWN?

WE HAVE a hunch the present disarmament conference in Geneva may accomplish something. This feeling arises, not in spite of the pessimism of delegates, but because of it.

At previous conferences, the world's leading figures have assembled with bubbling enthusiasm and adjourned in bitter recriminations. Now that the leaders confess probable collapse of the meeting at the outset, the problem may be tackled in a common sense attitude and something may come out of it.

The most amazing turn of events is the way the principal capitalistic nations are excitedly awaiting the word from Russia for a solution of the arms problem. Led by France, major European nations admit that the soviet delegate hold the key to the puzzle.

Gleeful in their diplomatic triumphs, the reds are preparing for a victorious march into the league of nations. Years ago the soviet could have slipped in the back door of the league. Today, the league throws wide its front portals for the once more mighty Bear.

Not so many months ago France smarted under the propaganda in Russia that the French were fomenting a counter-revolution. But such wounds are easily healed as La Belle France shudders at the lengthening shadow of Hitler. Now France invites the reds into a military alliance and offers its sponsorship for the triumphal entry into the league.

If Duce drops his comforting tone in Italy and causes the disarmament delegates grave concern Mussolini is a formidable showman in the international theater and senses a swing in public opinion away from fruitless disarmament meetings.

Political security guarantees apparently are eyed as the most likely solution to the war threat. Which means that the United States will not and cannot participate.

QUESTION.
Bridgeport, Conn.
I would like to know how you ministers propose to combine religion with business?

ANSWER.

Confessedly it has always been difficult to do that and equally dangerous not to do it. The relation of Judaism or Christianity to a nation's economic life is approached from two different viewpoints. The first claims independence for financial and industrial activities. The second claims that we can ride rough shod over these activities and impose on them the religious ideals we favor.

Assuredly the go-as-you-please attitude of many business men is as misleading as that of the politics regardless of morals which has produced the present troubles of the world. Thanks to religious ideals we have come back to some recognition of the importance of ethical principles in politics, whether national or international.

We shall also have to learn that our economic activities are means to certain social ends and not ends in themselves. We have let the instrumentalities of production and distribution get out of hand. They have attained an importance which belongs to the general welfare and not to economic advantages limited to the few.

Labor rightly resents being treated as a cog in a machine. Unless we can change that condition we shall not create a satisfactory industrial order. The readjustment requires mutual understanding and co-operation on the part of capital as well as on the part of labor. This is in part a psychological problem. How a man or group feels is truly a spiritual matter. No remedy is possible for inflamed emotions bent on reprisal except that of the spirit of good will and sympathetic consideration on the part of all concerned. Here religion comes into the picture. Its justice and good will are absolutely essential to modern industrialism.

QUESTION.
Washington, D. C.
Why is it that a feeling of failure is crushing so many of one's friends whom we had always thought brave souls?

ANSWER.

Is it not because they face burdens they can scarcely bear and duties they cannot shirk? Few people are ready to believe that if we could only understand the order of the universe we should find it to be the best of all possible worlds, with everything in it working for man's happiness in accordance with the divine will.

On the contrary, their actual experience seems to prove there is any moral purpose at the center of things. Millions are now suffering not only from a sense of bewilderment but from a settled conviction that their attempts to live well and nobly are needlessly thwarted by harsh and unjust conditions.

Probably the earlier years of maturity life are more apt to be exposed to this conviction of maladjustment. High ideals and valiant attempts to realize them cannot be thwarted without perilious reactions. It is said of one such enthusiastic spirit that because of his bitter disappointments in life's middle period pessimism took possession of him and, notwithstanding his great gifts, caused his conspicuous failure.

The best remedy I know is to accept one's personal responsibilities willingly. A wise man will remember that whatever his difficulties are he is not justified in shirking the true purposes of life. Faithful endeavor to fulfill these brings solid satisfaction. Devotion to the true and the right has its own rewards. Even failure takes on new significance when it reflects tenacity and resolution and the expenditure of honest effort. Robert E. Lee was great in victory, but he was still greater in defeat. Reversals are the standard test of manhood and blessed is he who endureth to the end.

QUESTION.
Lansing, Mich.
What do you consider is the main point in religious discussion today?

ANSWER.

That which deals with religion in terms of conduct. Life as we know it is too exacting and insistent to leave us much leisure or desire for speculation. "Men and brethren, what shall we do to be saved" is the dominant question today. The answer involves practical, personal religion and its relentless scrutiny by a somewhat unfriendly world intent on discovering its ethical values and the sincerity of its moral teaching.

Believers are not so much called upon to substantiate their doctrines as to vindicate their way of living. The years of war have left a bitter aftermath in youth. The old loyalties have been deeply wounded. The old landmarks were obliterated in suffering and despair. Sanctions once all sufficient have been shattered. Utter disillusionment has caused millions to grope in darkness, not knowing where they are going. Many are trying to relive their lives without faith in a benevolent omnipotence which governs all things well.

Many more rely on a rational human future, armed with scientific learning for their safety. Still others have fled to a shadowy humanism which cries, "Man, save thyself!" Yet as I write the slain women and children on the streets of Vienna protest against excessive faith in human nature. There is a growing distrust in the willingness of men to be or to do right.

A cyclone of reaction is in full blast. We have to find a dynamic which can lift us out of a lower self into a higher self, or we shall not be able to resist inertia, disappointment and futility, nor to push forward the moral reconstruction which will insure justice and peace for a sorely harassed race.

Can the Christian ethic and the prophetic righteousness of the Old Testament seers meet the world's need? Multitudes ask for our reply, and this can only be given in terms of actual conduct. If we possess the dynamic of salvation in Christ now is the hour to manifest its glorious pulsations.

LINWOOD AND WILLOW MAKE BEST ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.

I have just been talking to a very remarkable man, and one of the great master workmen in his field in the world. He is engaged in the business of making artificial limbs. Though this might seem a rather grisly business to most people, the human contacts that he has made, and the happiness that he has been able to disseminate, has rendered it a life work of enthusiasm, pleasure and interest to him.

Dr Clendening

Like most people who are in queer businesses, he got into his quite naturally. He lost a leg below the knee many years ago, and became interested in the mechanical side of making artificial limbs. He worked in a factory to learn the trade from the ground up. Many of his employes are in the same situation, wearing limbs manufactured by the firm, and yet it would be difficult for an uninitiated person to go into that office and see them walking around and realize the true state of affairs.

When the war broke out he was sent to England, and employed by various allied governments to supervise their artificial limb manufacture. He explains that their knowledge of the trade in Europe was limited because they had comparatively few accidents before the war. In England, for instance, there were 500 amputations a year compared with 50,000 amputations in the United States. (This, of course, includes all amputations, even finger amputations but even so, the contrast is appalling). During the war the British had 40,000 amputations, the French 60,000 and the United States 3,100, of which 1,800 were leg amputations.

The best artificial legs are made of lynwood. Linwood and willow have been the woods of choice from time immemorial, because they are light and strong, free from knots, and yield themselves readily to sculpturing.

In an artificial leg for an amputation above the knee, straps are tied to suspenders, and the patient moves the knee and foot quite naturally with the ordinary movement of the body in walking. In most instances it is unnecessary to hunch the shoulders up, although some patients never learn this. Patients vary in their ability to learn to use an artificial limb. Sometimes they can learn to walk on one without a cane within a few days, sometimes they never fully acquire the knack.

Much of the limb maker's success depends on the surgeon's knowledge of how to perform an amputation in relation to an artificial limb. Sometimes the surgeon tries to save too much of the leg, so that the stump interferes with the pulleys abve the artificial knee.

One employe I saw had lost the limb at the age of 9, and naturally had to acquire new artificial limbs every once in a while as growth went on. Having tried a number of different kinds, this patient had a clear idea of what should be done.

The success of a limbs depends upon individual fitting and adjustment, just as much as the success of a false set of teeth.

Metal is not considered the best material, partly because it is impossible to get away from the noise and partly because the different kinds of metal corrode at the joints.

The very best artificial leg costs about $200. Good ones can be obtained for $125.

ORDER ENTERED IN BEER ACTION

Grand Island Man May Continue Selling For Time Being.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., May 29—(AP)—The Central Distributing company, a wholesale beer distributing firm headed by Rudy Kuester, while restrained from disposing of any of its fixtures, equipment or other assets, will be permitted to sell 3.2 beer until such time as the court otherwise directs

This constituted the order entered by District Judge North this morning at the conclusion of a brief hearing on a petition for a temporary injunction to forbid Kuester from continuing in the beer business The order was entered with the approval of Paul Chaney, deputy attorney general who represented the state at the hearing.

The date for a hearing on the petition for a permanent injunction against Kuester and the Central Distributing company will be set sometime after Kuester and the other defendants file answers, on or before June 19

The state charges that Kuester and the Central Distributing company sold beer over the legal alcoholic limit

Why War?—Women

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 29—(AP)—What is the cause of war?
Women, says Maj. Gen Johnson Hagood of Fort Sam Houston.

"The lipstick does more to provoke war than the big stick," he avers.

"In the last analysis, men fight for their women, and there will be wars as long as there are women worth fighting for."

Just Folks

BROADCASTING

When Patti sang long years ago
Only the rich could hear her voice,
But few her gift divine could know
And in her artistry rejoice
The charm that music holds for all
Was from the many shut away,
Imprisoned fast by roof and wall,
For only those with coin to pay.

The limit of her power was then
No farther than the outer wall.
Gay women and complacent men
Were ticketed into the hall.
But Patti's voice was never heard
By people troubled and forlorn,
No distant doubting heart was stirred
Exultantly to face the morn.

Last night another artist sang.
As Patti in the lo ago;
Her voice melodiously rang
In curious places high and low.
A priest put down his book to hear.
A sailor listened far at sea.
And many a sad heart caught the cheer
Of that exquisite melody.

Across the land that song was swept;
An invalid forgot his pain,
A woman in a brothel wept.
Along that great broadcasting chain
Innumerable lonely lives
Were sharers in that gift sublime,
And even the dreariest of dives
Held beauty for a little time.

SIMPLIFY U. S. COURT ACTION

Quick Disposal Criminal Cases Enabled Under New Rules.

U. S. District court procedure in criminal cases will be greatly speeded and simplified by new rules received here Tuesday, J. B. Nickerson, deputy clerk, announced.

The new rules were promulgated by the Supreme court of the United States pursuant to a law passed last March. The rules become effective in all U. S. District courts and the Supreme court of the District of Columbia on September 1.

The new rules provide that motions in arrest of judgment or for a new trial shall be made within three days after the verdict or finding of guilt. Appeals must be taken within five days after entry of judgment of conviction. Petitions for allowance of appeal and citations in cases governed by the new rules are abolished.

The times at present in Federal court procedure vary from 30 to 90 days for filings. Included in the rules are prescribed forms, simplified and altogether new, for notices of appeal, clerk's statements or docket entries.

The rules pertain only to procedure and practice after a plea of guilty or verdict of finding of guilt as provided by the March law.

In condensed form the rules follow:

Sentence—Shall be imposed without delay unless a motion for the withdrawal of a guilty plea or in arrest of judgment or for the a new trial is pending or if the court believes investigation of the defendant is necessary Pending sentence, the court may commit the defendant or continue or increase the amount of bail.

Motions—Must be filed in 3 days Motion for new trial on account of new evidence may be made in 60 days Motion to withdraw a plea of guilty shall be made within 10 days after entry of such a plea and before sentence is imposed

Appeals—Shall be taken within 5 days

Supersedeas—An appeal from judgment stays the execution of the judgment.

Bail—Shall not be allowed pending appeal unless a substantial question is involved.

Bill of exceptions—Shall be filed in 30 days

Setting Appeal for Argument—Not later than 30 days after filing of record of appeal. Criminal appeals are given preference over civil cases.

Writs of certiorari—Petition for review shall be filed within 30 days after entry of judgment.

Rules of practice in filing for attorneys and for clerks are also prescribed.

Runyan Triplets Are 'Just Fine'

The triplet sons born to Mr. and Mrs. John Runyan Saturday night were reported "just fine" by Sister Hortensia, head of the obstetrical ward at St. Elizabeth's hospital Tuesday morning.

"The mother is also doing real good," Sister Hortensia said and reported that a few things for the boys were turned in Monday evening.

Vance Thomas, director of the Lancaster county office of the federal re-employment service, Tuesday said that Mr. Runyan, who has been unemployed ,will be sent out on the first crew of a PWA project. "It may be a day and it may be three," Mr. Thomas said, "but we have placed him on the first list."

Two complete layettes have been furnished the Runyan babies by the Junior League, according to Mrs. Walter W. White. Miss Susan Lau is chairman of the committee in charge of the work

Since Monday numerous reports have been received of other triplets born in Lincoln Official records of such births, however, are incomplete.

Daily Nebraska Staff Completed

Fred Nicklas, '35, of Syracuse, Irwin Ryan, '36, and Virginia Selleck, '36, both of Lincoln were named as the news editors of the Daily Nebraskan, University of Nebraska student newspaper, by the publications board Tuesday. Burton Marvin was named a week ago as editor of the paper

Ruth Matschullat, '36 Omaha, was named woman's editor and the election of a third assistant business manager was deferred until next semester The board will receive bids for engraving the 1935 Cornhusker, school annual Thursday and will select the Cornhusker staff Friday.

Hearings Scheduled On Overpass Applications

The state railway commission Tuesday set for hearing in June two requests that the Chicago & North Western railway be ordered to construct highway overpasses, one near David City and the other near Gresham Butler county seeks a new overpass on state highway No 15 between that city and Bruno the present one being too narrow, it is asserted Residents of Gresham want an overpass constructed over a private road a mile southeast of that town, in York county.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Rattles Is Disturbed

Queer what nothings bother us,
Trifles over which we fuss.
—Rattles the Kingfisher.

From daylight until long after jolly, round, red Mr. Sun had gone to bed behind the Purple Hills Rattles the Kingfisher and Mrs. Rattles worked to feed the growing babies in the snug home deep in the bank of the gravel pit in the Old Pasture. It sometimes seemed to Rattles that he had hardly made the last trip with food when it was daylight and time to start again. He couldn't remember ever having worked so hard for a family of babies. But then he never before had had so many hungry mouths to feed There were nine of them.

"I knew just how it was going to be when Mrs. Rattles laid all those eggs," he grumbled. "She laid too many. She certainly laid too many. I told her so. Of course, every one of them had to hatch. If one or two had failed to hatch it would have helped some. Big families may be all right to talk about, but they are not all right to feed, not when every morsel they eat must be found and caught. It doesn't seem to me that I have had a full meal myself since those eggs hatched. And every day is harder than the day before. The bigger they get the more it takes to fill them up. I certainly will be thankful when they are able to get their own food. There are too many of them for one pair of parents. I told their mother how it was going to be, and so it is."

So Rattles grumbled as he fished for minnows and hunted water beetles and other water insects and now and then chased a grasshopper. But all the time he was proud of that big family. Yes, sir, he was proud of that big family. He boasted of it whenever any one would listen to him. He looked with scorn on some of his neighbors who had only three or four babies.

And how those nine little Kingfishers did grow! When they had hatched from the eggs not one of them had had so much as a single feather. There hadn't been even a wee bit of down such as so many bird babies have at first. But in a surprisingly short time they had sprouted all over them what Mrs. Rattles declared were feathers. Rattles took her word for it. They didn't look like feathers to him. No, sir, they didn't. He hadn't thought anything about it when they first appeared through the skin, a lot of little points But as day by day they grew longer and longer, and still not at all like feathers, he became a little disturbed. Those youngsters looked as if they were covered with a lot of quills instead of feathers.

"Do you think there is anything wrong with our babies?" he asked.

He knew of some other babies of about the same age, and some a little younger, babies of some of the feathered neighbors. Now and then he flew so that he could look down into a nest and see them. Their little coats were of real feathers, while the coats of his own children didn't seem like feathers at all. He mentioned the matter to Mrs. Rattles.

"Do you think there is anything wrong with our babies?" he asked.

"Wrong!" exclaimed Mrs. Rattles in a puzzled tone "I should say not. Never have we had a healthier lot. You can almost see them grow."

"They grow fast enough," admitted Rattles. "They ought to, for they eat enough, goodness knows. It is their coats I was thinking of."

"What is the matter with their coats?" demanded Mrs. Rattles.

"That is what I want to know," replied Rattles. "Those things growing all over them don't look like any feather I ever have seen"

"Don't be foolish," replied Mrs. Rattles a bit testily. "Of course, they are feathers. All our babies always looked like that at their age."

"Did they? I don't remember. I guess I never really noticed," confessed Rattles. "Of course, if you say they are all right, they must be. You ought to know. Just the same, they look queer to me."

He went off to try to catch a minnow, but he was still disturbed and he didn't become any less so as day after day there was no change save that those quill or spine like feathers grew longer. They were certainly queer looking. Yes, sir, they were.

Christian Heroism Called World Need

Rev. Moehring Delivers Commencement Address For Luther Seminary Graduates.

"The need of the world today is for Christian heroism," Rev. R. Moehring of Fontenelle told the three graduates of Martin Luther seminary at commencement exercises in the seminary chapel Tuesday morning. An audience of more than 150 attended.

The graduates are Lorin J. Wolff of Sterling, who has accepted a pastorate at Diller; Alfred Duis of Odell, who will have a charge at Gothenburg; and Wolfang Goemmel of Sutton.

"Always remember," Rev. Moehring said, "that heroism and the Cross are inseparable. Let the world idly say that the Cross is the symbol of failure, but to us and to all religious people, it will be a symbol of the greatest heroism of how He laid down his life to save the world."

"Heroes of Christ must fix their eyes steadfastly upon their victorious leader and follow unswervingly," he continued. "They are self-sacrificing and must trust whole-heartedly. They must be faithful to His words."

"Always follow the teachings of Jesus Christ in your ministry regardless of what it may cost you personally," he advised, "for that is the true way. You may believe Him always, for a falsehood never came from his lips. You may believe Him when He says, 'He who loses his life shall find it.'"

"You may soon be called upon to make a great sacrifice," Rev. Moehring said in closing, "but make that sacrifice as Christian heroes. Move forward to carry His gospel to all people, that they, too, may have eternal salvation."

Dr Frederic Rabe of Lincoln, professor of Old Testament literature in the seminary, spoke briefly in German.

Dr. O. W. Heick, dean of the school, presided over the service and presented the diplomas to the graduates.

SEEK HELP FOR LIVESTOCK MEN

Knox County Officials Want Government Come To Aid.

NIOBRARA, Neb., May 29—(AP)—Because of the vastly inadequate rainfall last fall and this spring, which is forcing farmers to sell their livestock at bankrupt prices, due to shortage of feed, Knox county supervisors yesterday passed a resolution asking Congressman Edgar Howard to take such steps as necessary to have Knox county designated in the drouth area, it was announced this morning by Supervisor John D. Forsyth of Niobrara.

Because of the shortage of food and wholesale selling of livestock, Knox county farmers will have practically no livestock to carry on with in the future, the resolution point out. In order to avert such a condition speedy action must be taken to save the farmers, the supervisors stated.

The resolution asks Congressman Howard to take steps to provide Knox county farmers with such funds as may be necessary to enable them to keep their livestock and work horses and to furnish them with money to buy forage crops to keep their livestock alive.

Controversy Rampant Over Miss Or Mrs.

National Woman's Party Favors Title "Mrs." For All Women

SPINSTERS, bachelor girls and old maids — sit up and have courage — the National Woman's party which has its headquarters in Washington, D. C., is waging a campaign that is new and different, so we understand. The party wants the use of "Mrs." as a universal title for all women, married or otherwise, and a wedding ring will have no influence whatsoever. The members of this National Woman's party say that a man is "Mister," whether he be bachelor or benedict, and they see no reason why a woman should not be "Mrs."

But even in Washington there is a little opposition—Frances Perkins who in private life is Mrs Paul Wilson, wants to be called "Miss," and Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers believes a married woman should take her husband's name It would seem that the N. W. P. had a little heavy work ahead.

AND WHILE THAT argument is going on in Washington —Hollywood is back on its usual subject of whether motion picture careers and marriage can be successfully combined. And the answer seems to be "No."

Most of the women stars are of the belief that if one marries the husband should be the first consideration, and therefore one's career falls by the wayside. If the husband isn't the first consideration, marriage is a failure—so there you are.

The marriage of Miss Sherlie Julia Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rogers of York, and Francis M. Cummings, son of Mr. and Mrs. M T. Cummings of that city, took place at the First Christian church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev Gardner R. Miller read the service before an altar massed with greenery, on either side of which were baskets of pink carnations and lilies inset with candelabra of ivory tapers.

Following a group of organ numbers by Mrs. Howard Wells, Miss Leta Mae Rogers, sister of the bride, sang "At Dawning," by Cadman, and, during the service, "O Promise Me." Miss Margaret Troyer of Geneva played the processional and recessional music.

Miss Earleen Rogers, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. Little Margaret Jean Rogers and Dale Wensell each carried a ring for the ceremony. Mary and Ann Cummings, nieces of the groom, were the flower girls.

Emery S. Cummings of Hastings, the groom's brother, was his best man. Ray Rogers and Clarence Granere were the ushers.

The bride's gown was of floor length white taffeta, with which she wore a tulle veil caught with a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses, swansonia, and snap dragons.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs Cummings will reside in York. Mr. Cummings is a graduate of Lincoln high school and is a former student at the University of Nebraska.

Guests from Lincoln included Mr. and Mrs Charles Babcock and son, Mr and Mrs. Robert Hassel and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Beck and family.

MISS TRUE CHAPPELL IN 'CELLO RECITAL.

Two hundred and fifty attended the 'cello recital of Miss True Chappell, young daughter of Judge and Mrs. E. B. Chappell, Monday evening at the First Plymouth Congregational church. The long program was divided into two solo groups, and a concerto played with her instructor, Miss Betty Zabriskie. Miss Chappell's superior talent was best seen in her Beethoven variation, and in the "Concerto" by Klengel. For the audience greatest appeal was in the "Liebestraum," Liszt

The program:

'Variations in E Flat Major on a theme by Mozart," Beethoven "Concerto in C Major," Klengel, 'Andante" Goltermann, 'Humoresque Hebraique" Chasins "Liebestraum," Liszt-Damboits, "Serenade," Cassada, "Apres un Reve" Faure-Casals," "Allegro-Spiritoso," Senaille

Dr. Latzel is author of "Symptoms of Gastric Cancer": eminent internal specialist.

"All three of his ailments disappeared... quickly"

says DR. ROBERT LATZEL, clinic head in Vienna's largest free hospital

Read Dr. Latzel's explanation of this case... the troubles may be very similar to your own!

"MR. H. B.," the noted Dr. Latzel reports, "was a civil engineer. He had become chronically tired out, with boils, a very poor appetite and the usual distressing stomach symptoms... he had gas pains.

"I examined him His abdomen was flabby and large. His intestines were weak, clogged The man was nearly always constipated.

"I put him on a yeast diet—asked him to report back in a week. By that time one of his boils was gone, another had started to dry up.

"In 3 weeks his skin was entirely clear, he had good color, healthy appetite and no more gas. Constipation stopped. He showed every sign of improved energy.

"Run-down health, poor complexion, indigestion, heartburn, and many other troubles usually come from poisons carried through the blood from the intestines," states Dr. Latzel "Yeast tones up bowel action and increases the flow of digestive juices." Also, it softens the clogging waste in the body so you can clear it out easily—regularly.

Then you have new energy. Your blood is cleaner, healthier. Naturally, boils and pimples heal. Your digestion and your skin improve immensely, too.

Why not go to your grocer, or a restaurant or soda fountain, and get some Fleischmann's Yeast right now? Then eat 3 cakes every day, following the directions on the label. Each cake is rich in vitamins B, D and G that we all need.

Won't you start to eat Fleischmann's Yeast today? And keep it up for 30 days!

Eat 3 Cakes a Day

ELIZABETH E. BLAND, of Christiana, Pa., writes "Doctors had advised Fleischmann's Yeast to several friends I tried it It cleared up my sluggishness quickly My complexion got clear"

"It Doubled the flavor of my STRAWBERRY JAM!"

When Mrs. Brown first tried Certo, she couldn't believe how much better jam tasted!

WHY don't you go to your grocer tomorrow—get some ripe strawberries, sugar and Certo—and put up a batch of wonderful Strawberry Jam? And you can't put up too much!

More than four million jam and jelly makers are now using Certo—and these include most of the State Fair Champions all over the country.

They will tell you that Certo ought to give you half again more glasses from the same fruit, and allow you to finish it in one-third the usual time.

They will tell you, too, of the extra flavor that you get in any jam or jelly made with Certo.

When you use Certo, you boil your jellies or jams only a few minutes. The fruit juice does not boil away. And you never get that "boiled-down" taste that comes with long, tedious boiling. Certo is sold by all grocers. A product of General Foods.

HOW TO MAKE THE BEST STRAWBERRY JAM

Certo Laboratories report this recipe best for use with 1934 berries. See also Special Strawberry News below.

4 cups (2 lbs.) prepared fruit
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar Juice of ½ lemon
½ bottle Certo

To prepare fruit, grind about 2 quarts ripe berries or crush so that each berry is reduced to pulp.

Measure sugar, prepared fruit and lemon juice into large kettle, mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. To reduce foaming, [illegible] butter may be added. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in Certo. Pour quickly. Paraffin at once. Makes about 10 glasses (6 fluid ounces).

SPECIAL STRAWBERRY NEWS!

Read carefully before making Strawberry Jam

1934 will be a good strawberry year. Plan to start your Certo jam cupboard with the first luscious strawberries. This year we've had unusual weather conditions and fruits may vary more widely than usual in moisture content. The Certo laboratories recommend that for strawberry jam you boil the fruit and sugar mixture of 1934 berries [illegible] minutes instead of one, and for even better results and keener flavor, add the juice of half a lemon. Welter Crown Passes Over to Lake City Boy

Barney Ross Wrests Title From Irish Lad In Bruising Conflict

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, May 29—(INS)—They'll be talking about this one until Gabriel comes riding down out of the clouds to toot the inevitable trumpet, but no amount of oratory can take the lightweight and welterweight championships away from Barney Ross, nee Rosofsky, his morning. He had the former before he went in there with Jimmy McLarnin last night and he came out with the latter, a decision that moved a roaring rabid crowd of 60,000 to take partisan sides, become permanently estranged and finally go roaring off into the night. But Ross won the prize fight, the greatest of all welterweight meetings.

Judges Disagreed.

He did for me, anyhow, although he didn't for Tom O'Rourke, veteran fight man, who sat in one judge's chair and gave Ross one round, the eleventh, and that on a technicality. This created an impasse, inasmuch as Harold Barnes, the Columbia professor, sat in the other judge's chair and gave Mc Larnin two rounds.

This passed the onus strictly onward and upward to referee Eddie Forbes, who was standing in a neutral corner, looking most unhappy at this unexpected honor and privilege.

For, singular as may have been the discrepancy between the views of O'Rourke and Barnes, Mr. Forbes vouchsafed a few singular views of his own. He had awarded no less than five rounds—the fourth, seventh, ninth, eleventh and thirteenth—to Ross on what he alleged to be low punching by McLarnin.

"The judges," shouted Announcer Humphries, always keyed to his drama, "have disagreed."

Referee Gave Final Verdict.

He was interrupted by an outburst of vigorous booing from the back aisles, though just what this signified, nobody quite knew nor ever will.

Probably some of the booers were thinking of Terris, Goldstein, Singer, Glick, Leonard and other Jewish fighters who had stepped in there with McLarnin and had come out feet first. This had been a tender point among the cloak-and-suiters and, doubtless, after thinking they had seen their man win from this rough, tough Irisher last night, they were a little distressed to learn that there was a dispute about the verdict.

Gaining quiet finally, Humphries announced the tidings that declared a new champion born and that the old, to every important purpose, was dead. But, of course, this is not so. They don't have a crowd like that and a fight like this without bringing them back.

"We're through," said Pop Foster, in the dressing room later. "They don't call them like that on McLarnin and expect us to come back for more."

But, of course, they will. There will be plenty more for the next fight and, unless I've become a little confused with the excitement and everything, Mr. Foster is E. Pluribus unum, the man on the dollar. Anyhow, I'm pretty sure it's the dollar on the man.

Ross Ready for Return.

Ross, meantime, was enthusiastic about a return match. So were Ross' co-managers, Pian and Winch. So was McLarnin — with reservations. That is, he said he'd be "glad," but I'm not so sure that he really meant it.

For this Chicago Hebrew, a gallant soul, punched him around with some abandon last night. He outspeeded the champion; he stood and slugged with him. Sometimes, he ran for his life. But always it was a great fight, the kind one talks about but seldom sees.

Ross momentarily on the floor in the ninth round. McLarnin momentarily on the floor in the ninth round. One might judge from this that the ninth was an important round. But actually it was only one of 15 that teemed with excitement and fairly bristled with drama, real drama.

Ross always circling to the right to escape Jimmy's dreaded right cross. I don't think Jimmy really nailed him over once with this punch. Ross, dead on his feet from the twelfth to the fourteenth and getting himself punched out of the championship. Then, suddenly in the fifteenth, tapping some hidden reserve to come out punching with both hands and taking the play away from a man who was bigger and stronger—and might, for all I know, have actually been better.

Barney Lands Hard Rights.

Twice in the last minute, Ross rocked McLarnin with rights to the chin. Previously, he had scored the more punches. Now, he was scoring the harder. Just before the bell, another right clipped Jimmy and, for a fragment of a second, his knees dipped. Then they rang the gong and it was over. And so was Jimmy.

He had, for me, been beaten by a better man—a lightweight of 137¾ pounds, against McLarnin's surprisingly low weight of 142.

However, if this had any effect on McLarnin, it was not observable last night. He really made a great fight—fast, courageous, a punching fight. But there was one technicality, a slight flaw in the arrangement. They dropped him in with a fighter who was greater.

And, yet, it might not have been quite so certain, except for a slip in the eleventh round. I've told about the fifteenth largely because of its dramatic value, with this little Hebrew, born here on Rivington street, within sight and sound of the east side pavements, making his last gallant gesture when all seemed lost. But the effect, impressive as it was, might yet have been futile except for the eleventh.

Here McLarnin, the stronger and fresher after 10 terrific rounds, was punching Ross, nee Rosofsky, around in no uncertain manner when, unfortunately, he landed a low left. Referee Forbes thereupon halted the proceedings to shake a warning finger in James' features. This meant only one thing. According to the terms of the local code, the round was automatically Ross'; so that, while Ross may have won his own fight in the fifteenth, he still had to have it saved for him in the eleventh.

Weight Begins to Tell.

For, by this time, the disparity in weight, not so apparent on the scales perhaps but very vital as stamina waned and legs grew weary, was beginning to have its effect. Ross was absolutely dead upon his feet. He couldn't move away from McLarnin's punches. He couldn't offer any of his own. All he could do was flutter and flounder helplessly, a victim of the other's strength and his own limitations.

He probably was saving something for that last round finish. Maybe he just couldn't help himself. Anyhow, the fact is clear that when a last-round finish was asked for, Ross delivered.

He also did a little offhand random delivery work over the early rounds. In fact, he got away to such a lead here that Jimmy's rush from the tenth on didn't quite make it. The first was the feel-out round, fast but unimportant and even. The second belonged to McLarnin. He consistently left-handed Ross through the rallies, occasionally crossing a right that didn't land where it might have, but nevertheless didn't add to Rosofsky's composure.

In the third, there was a change. Barney began circling to the right, slipping leads and countering with lefts and rights. He kept this up through the third and in the fourth, he replied to a series of left hooks by coming off the ropes and driving James all the way across the ring with lefts and rights and winding up the round with a right cross that stung McLarnin right on the profile.

Sixth a Vicious Round.

The sixth was a struggling round, with both punching hard to the body without visible superiority, but McLarnin suddenly found the range with his left in the seventh and couldn't miss. Ross again launched out with a counter-rally here, driving both hands to the body and head, but actually McLarnin must have landed left hands by the dozen before the bell.

However, Ross came back to take the eighth. Then the ninth, with its double knockdown. Barney, usually under fire and in retreat, suddenly varied his tactics here, stopping to stand and slug with the one-punch man. He was standing and slugging when suddenly both let go with left hooks at the same time. Ross' actually landed —but so did Ross. He landed on the small of his back.

He was right up again before they could start a count and then began a wild exchange, with Ross holding his own in a two-handed attack. He was, if anything, landing more punches, if not the cleaner, and one of them, a left hook, must have been pretty clear at that. For there, suddenly, was Mr. McLarnin's pale-faced boy down there in the splinters himself, and groping vaguely for his balance.

He had it in a split-second and was on his feet without a count being held. But, somehow, some of the dash had gone out of McLarnin the rest of the round. He couldn't quite keep up with Barney's punching and they turned into the tenth with the latter a long way out in front.

Ross In Climatic Rally.

The tenth was a tough one to call. Rally followed rally in quick succession, Ross keeping both hands going constantly, McLarnin scoring at will with left hooks. One of these landed flush on Ross' stomach and, after that, barring the fifteenth, he never seemed quite the same.

His mouth was cut now, McLarnin's nose had been bleeding profusely for four rounds and altogether they were something to gaze upon, especially Ross. His mouth was agape, his eyes held a wild glare, as from the twelfth to the fourteenth, McLarnin out-roughed and out-toughed him.

Another round and the fight would be pulled out. Another round, and apparently Ross must capitulate, finally and forever.

But he didn't I suspect they don't grow them that way on Rivington street.

MAXIE PLANNING TAKE ON WEIGHT

Baer Scheme of Training Aimed at Adding To His Poundage.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., May 29—(INS)—Max Baer, who meets Primo Carnera for the heavyweight title on June 14, is taking on weight instead of dropping it, his trainer, Mike Cantwell, explained today.

"I want him to put on weight now," Cantwell said, "for he'll have something to work off between now and two days before the battle."

Baer was scheduled to put in another strenuous day of training today, chief among his chores being another two-round setto with Dynamite Jackson, the negro heavyweight, who has been giving him excellent workouts. The two met for two rounds yesterday and, in spots, Jackson actually outfought Baer.

Primo Displays Skill.

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., May 29—(INS)—Boxing experts who have been watching Primo Carnera train here for his heavyweight title match with Max Baer, June 14, declared today that the Venetian was boxing better than at any time in his career.

The big fellow is taking a downright delight in his training and is jabbing and feinting his sparring partners in beautiful fashion.

Yesterday he boxed with Justin Sirutis, Salvatore Ruggirello and Corn Griffin and all three absorbed plenty of punishment. Not one of the spar mates was able to reach the champion with a telling blow.

WOOD TO PLAY IN SINGLES CONTEST

NEW YORK, May 29—(AP)—Sidney B. Wood, jr., fair-haired New York tennis star, has been substituted for Frank X. Shields, top-ranking American, on the U. S. team which will play Mexico in the final North American zone Davis cup series beginning tomorrow at Baltimore, the United States Lawn Tennis asasociation announced today.

Wood will play in the singles with Lester R. Stoeffen. The doubles assignment was given to George M. Lott, jr., of Chicago and John Van Ryn of Philadelphia, who successfully played against Canada last week.

The Davis cup committee, of which Holcombe Ward is chairman, explained that Wood was substituted for Shields in order that he might have an opportunity to play in actual Davis cup competition.

City Loop Leaders In 7-Inning Draw

POWER VS. CITY HALL TONIGHT.

Iowa-Nebraska Power and City of Lincoln meet tonight at 6:15 on the Muny diamond. Krenk probably will toil for the Juice Peddlers, with Lloyd Stahl chucking for City.

Glen Ullstrom's sharp single to left field in the seventh scoring Wintersteen, tied the count at 3-3 Monday evening at Muny field as Roberts Dairy and Wendelin Bakers, the two undefeated teams, battled in a no-decision bout. The game will be replayed Monday, June 4, on the same field.

Roberts had gone in front in the third with a two-run spree, but Wendelin apparently won the game in the fifth when Pitcher Henry Bretzer poled a homer with Amen and Rosenberg on the bases. The homer was a fluke in that it was an ordinary single that took a bad hop and bounded past Harry Hust, Robert left fielder. Then came the seventh, with Wintersteen walking with two away, stealing second and coming in on Ullstrom's blow.

The game was one of the tightest of the current season. Roberts touched Henry Bretzer and Cannonball Sieck for five blows. Lefty Dave Corbin twirled a masterful game for Roberts, giving four hits and fanning seven, while walking two. Score:

ROSS BARRED BY NATIONAL BOARD

Head of N.B.A. Suspends New Champion On Plea of Texas Promoter.

NEW YORK, May 28—(AP)—Edward C. Foster of Providence, R. I., president of the National Boxing association, announced today he had suspended Barney Ross, lightweight and new welter weight champion, for failure to honor a contract at Fort Worth, Texas.

The action was demanded by the Texas Boxing association and followed the suspension of Ross in Texas, where Charles H. Poe, Texas administrator of boxing and wrestling laws, suspended Ross last Friday.

Ross was matched to defend his synthetic junior welterweight title in Fort Worth against Tony Herrera in Fort Worth last winter. He was charged with having declined to go through with the match after the promoters claimed they spent $12,000 preparing for it.

It was pointed out that Ross can be reinstated by going through with the match. Texas promoters yesterday threatened to seek an injunction to prevent the Ross-McNarnin fight, where Ross won his new title last night, but were dissuaded.

The suspension will have no effect in New York or Illinois, where decisions of the N.B.A. are not recagnized, but will be effective in most other states.

Test of Speed Car Has Fatal Result

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man, May 29—(INS)—After being found in a semi-conscious condition by a searching party, led by his wife, the former Eileen Martin of Greenwich, Conn., Kaye Don, famed British racing driver, was recovering today from shock and abrasions suffered in an accident during a secret, midnight test of a new speed car.

Frank Taylor, Don's mechanic, who was in the car with him, died this morning from the injuries he received.

Don, idol of the British sports public, and Taylor went out last night to secretly test their entry in an international race to be held next Friday. When they failed to return to their hotel here, Don's wife, daughter of Leonard J. Martin, Greenwich "linen king," organized a searching party which she led.

They found the racers lying dazed beside the wreck of their car. Don said they had brushed a private automobile while travelling at a terrific rate and overturned.

Don, who himself narrowly escaped death, sustained head injuries. His mechanic died without regaining full consciousness.

Cards Mount to Top Position When Giants Twice Thrash Buccos

NEW YORK, May 29—(INS)—Among the clubs which will be delighted to head for their home pastures today may be cited the Cubs of Chicago and the Yanks of New York, both of which had disastrous road trips. Only the Cardinals had a truly successful road trip. It was so good, in fact, that they wound it up by moving into the lead after a long uphill climb.

Giants Bag Double Triumph.

The Cards were aided no little by the Giants, who took a double-header from the Pirates yesterday, thereby moving themselves up to third place ahead of the drooping Cubs.

Travis Jackson won both games with home runs. The first one was a honey. For seven innings neither French nor Schumacher allowed a hit. Then the Pirates got one in the eighth and the Giants got their first safety in the ninth.

The Pirates put over two runs in the tenth and the Giants came right back with two. Then, after French had fanned Bill Terry and Mel Ott in the eleventh, Jackson broke it up with a homer to win, 3 to 2.

The nightcap brought another pitching duel between Birkofer and Hubbell, the latter winning, 1 to 0, on the strength of Jackson's second homer.

The Reds shocked the Dodgers no end by taking them 8 to 1, with Benny Frey outpitching Artero Herring. Mr. Herring was kippered to the extent of 16 hits.

Hallahan Blanks Phillies.

Wild Bill Hallahan had one of his good days and the Cards shut out the Phillies, 10 to 0, and the Braves put the crusher on the Cubs, 5 to 3.

The Yanks showed some of their old power by bunching 21 hits off a quartet of Brown pitchers and staggered in, 13 to 9. Gehrig got two homers and Ruth, Lazzeri and Saltzgaver one each.

The Yankees' pitchers were no particular bargain themselves and old Burleigh Grimes, whom they signed yesterday, should prove a big help, especially since the American league hasn't seen a spitball artist since Urban Faber faded out of the picture.

The Indians continued to set a hot pace at the expense of the A's, whom they stopped in 10 heats, 6 to 5, despite two homers by Jimmy Foxx.

The mended White Sox closed a successful home stand by pounding four Senator pitchers for 17 hits, and an 11-7 decision.

The Tigers chased the once feared Lefty Grove to the showers in six innings and won, 12 to 6.

Burglars Break Into Two Scotia Places

Burglars forced a safe in a Scotia elevator office and also looted the Union Pacific depot there Sunday night, Sheriff Weber of Greeley county reported Monday to State Sheriff Fred Benton. The report did not disclose whether any loot was obtained at either place, Benton said. Deputy State Sheriff Otto Dudschus was sent to Scotia to investigate.

AGED VETERAN DIES.

HEHIGH, Neb., May 29 —(AP)—Funeral services will be held here Wednesday — Memorial day — for Herman G. Lueschen, 96, one of the few remaining Civil war veterans in this vicinity, who died Sunday at the farm home he homesteaded in 1870. Services will be held at St. Paul, Lutheran church, which he helped to found. Lueschen, a native of Germany, was taken prisoner in the battle of Winchester, spending three months in Libby prison. Several children survive.

OPEN DRUG BIDS.

The board of control Monday was opening bids on drugs to fill the medicine chests at the seventeen state institutions. Bids also were being taken for sinking a well at the soldiers and sailors home at Milford and for oils and greases and electric light bulbs for the various institutions.

"Four Bottles Helped Me"

Feels Fine... Never Tired

"My four children were born close together. I lived on a farm with lots of work to do and I got all rundown so I could hardly go. Four bottles of your Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully. Twice since then I had to take several bottles to regulate and strengthen me. I take care of my house and children, do all my laundry and do home work for a garment factory, and I feel fine and never get tired. I have also used the Sanative Wash and it relieved my trouble."—Mrs. Chas. S. Pittinger, 55 Conklin Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Eczema over Face. Could Hardly Sleep. Cuticura Healed.

"Eczema broke out in pimples all over my face and spread to my arms. When I put water on my face it itched and burned until I thought I would go crazy. I could not bear to have people look at me. The pimples were large and hard and my skin was sore and red. I could hardly work or sleep.

"When I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment I sent for a free sample. Then I purchased more, and after using about three boxes of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap I was healed." (Signed) George Doll, R. 1, Box 35, La Salle, Ill.

Stocks Idle Through Dullest Session In 10 Years As Traders Desert Market; Some Profit Taking

Exchange Has Irregular Close

Transfers About 350,000, Smallest Aggregate Since June 2, 1924.

MARKETS CLOSED WEDNESDAY.

NEW YORK, May 29—(AP)—All of the leading security and commodity markets here will remain closed tomorrow in observance of Memorial day. The holiday will be similarly observed in most other centers, although the New Orleans cotton exchange will transact business as usual.

Stocks idled through the dullest session in 10 years today as traders deserted the market for a lengthy Memorial day recess. Prices moved aimlessly most of the time, but there were a number of moderate losses due to pre-holiday profit taking. The close was irregular. Transfers approximated 350,000, the smallest aggregate since July 2, 1924.

The only show of activity was seen in the first two hours. For minutes at a time the tape ticker did not move. The turnover between 12 and 1 o'clock amounted to only about 40,000 shares, a record low since the hourly issuance of approximate aggregates was started by the stock exchange.

A few specialties registered modest gains, others sagged and many were virtually unchanged. A large number of stocks did not sell at all. American Telephone did not make its appearance until more than an hour after the opening.

Grains dipped and rallied under intermittent realizing and support based on further drouth news. Wheat was aided by reports that Russia was buying that cereal and flour in Australia. Rubber recovered some earlier declines and silver improved modestly. Cotton did a little better. Bonds were fairly even and the dollar held its own in foreign exchange dealings.

There was little news to influence shares. Armour of Illinois preferred got up around 2 points following overnight study of the company's reorganization plans. Amusement stocks such as Loew's and Paramount responded to expectations of better earnings. Unimportant fluctuations were shown by American Telephone, U. S. Steel, American Can, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Chrysler, New York Central, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and others. Union Pacific, Liggett & Myers B and U. S. Smelting dropped a point or more each. Most of the utilities, rails, alcohols and aircrafts were at a standstill.

While most commentators were encouraged by the quiet and steadier character of the market, brokerage houses were bewailing the lack of business and were disposed to attribute public and professional indifference largely to uncertainties regarding congressional activities, labor troubles and seasonal declines in various lines of industry.

There were many conjectures on the personnel of the commission the president will appoint to carry out the provisions of the new stock exchange regulation bill which is expected to become a law before the end of the week. Until the make-up of the control board is known, it was felt there could be no idea as to how drastic would be the supervision of speculation.

Wall street was pleasantly surprised at the estimate of the American Iron & Steel Institute that mill operations had stepped up 1.9 points to 56.1 per cent of capacity. During the past two weeks or so there had been signs that production was being definitely curtailed.

One of the reasons advanced for the current upturn in output was that a threat of a major steel strike on June 16, had brought in some anticipatory buying. Those close to the industry, however, say there has lately been an actual increase in consumer requirements not connected with labor fears.

The piling up of idle cash in the banks of the country continues to cause some concern in the financial district. The federal reserve board's condition statement of weekly reporting member banks as of May 23, shows increases for the week of $50,000,000 in net demand deposits, $32,000,000 in investments and $86,000,000 in reserve balances with reserve banks. There was a decrease of $63,000,000 in loans, $13,000,000 in time deposits and $11,000,000 in government deposits. Loans on securities were off $37,000,000 and "all other," or commercial, loans showed another drop of $26,000,000.

Despite some indications of consumer resistance to higher prices, the New York federal reserve agent reported that during the first half of May department store sales in the metropolitan area were about 6.5 per cent higher than in the same period a year ago and, excluding liquor sales, the gain amounted to a little more than 4 per cent.

In opening dealings the British pound was off a cent at $5.08½ and the French franc was .00½ of a cent easier at 6.59¾ cents.

Omaha Produce.

OMAHA, Neb., May 29—(AP)—

Wheat Soars in Late Dealings

Close Is Irregular, ¼ Lower to 1⅛ Higher; Corn ⅛ Off to ⅜ Up.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Ill., May 29—(AP)—

Material downturns of grain prices early today followed an irregular start. Fears of imports of wheat into the United States from Argentina or other foreign countries despite 42 cents tariff duty dominated the market. Opening at ⅜ cent off to ¼ cent up, July 96¼@¾c, wheat later underwent setbacks all around. Corn started ¼ to 1¼ cents down, and subsequently dropped further.

Breaks in wheat values were partly attributed to profit taking and to assertions that with a holiday ahead the market had become temporarily overbought on crop damage reports. Forecasts of unsettled weather tonight, indicating possible moisture relief for drouth territory northwest, tended further at times to drag prices down. Under such circumstances, rallies failed to hold well, despite Winnipeg reports that in large sections of Saskatchewan many thousands of acres formerly sown to wheat would not be sown at all this year, and that of the acreage actually seeded and already up 50 per cent must have abundant rains within a week or be a total loss. Corn and oats prices gave way with wheat.

Provisions reflected fairly good demand from commission houses. Wheat futures purchases yesterday totaled 49,595,000 bushels, and in corn 63,698,000.

About mid-session, wheat was ¾ to ⅞ cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, and corn was ⅞ to 1¼ cents down.

Corn receipts in Chicago today were 55 cars, a week ago 49 and a year ago a holiday.

Reports that the Russian government was buying wheat and flour in Australia ran Chicago wheat prices suddenly upward late today. The market jumped to well above yesterday's topmost point for deferred deliveries.

Accelerating late advances in wheat values were assertions of some trade leaders that drouth in this country if much longer unrelieved might assume proportions of a national calamity.

Wheat closed irregular at some reaction from the day's maximum, ¼ cent lower to 1⅛ cents higher compared with yesterday's finish, May 98@98¼c, July 97¼@½c. Corn ⅛ cent off to ⅜ cent up, May 55⅝c, July 57@57⅛c, oats ⅜ to 1¼ cents advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 7 cents.

Wheat quickly tumbled about 1½ cents a bushel, and for the time being traders lost sight of blistering temperatures and of wide spread drouth. An outstanding factor was that Argentine wheat, duty paid, could apparently be delivered in New York at about $1 02 cents a bushel, several cents under current quotations for United States cash wheat. Much talk was heard that whether or not such imports of wheat would take place depended on the attitude of administration officials at Washington, and it was pointed out that imports of rye, another bread stuff, were being freely permitted.

NEW YORK BOND REVIEW.

NEW YORK, May 29—(AP)—

Dullness, the bond market's outstanding characteristic during the last couple of weeks, was accentuated today by pre-holiday influences.

Values in all sections of the list were reasonably steady considering the insignificant quantity of investment interest.

U. S. governments had a firmer tone than yesterday and by noon several of the treasury issues had edged up from 1-32nd to 4-32nds of a point under extremely light trading.

Secondary issues had a somewhat mixed tone. There were small gains in the obligations of International Telephone and Alleghany corporation among other. Mild recessions featured American & Foreign Power 5s, Baltimore & Ohio 4½s, Milwaukee 5s, Postal Telegraph 5s and Western Union 5s.

Also in a slightly lower range were Bethlehem Steel 5s, American Telephone 5s and Youngstown Sheet & Tube 5s. Apparently reflecting a scarcity of offerings near the market Shell Union Oil 5s rose 1¼ points on a few trades. National Dairy Products 5¼s hardened half a point.

In the foreign sector Argentine issues moved up about a point or so to the accompaniment of reported plans for a refunding operation affecting a part of the nation's external debt. Italy 7s made a fractional recovery of yesterday's sharp decline. German 5½s rose about a point. Other groups were not materially changed.

NEW YORK CURB REVIEW.

NEW YORK, May 29—(AP)—

Prices on the curb exchange displayed a steady to firm undertone in quiet trading today. Inactive specialties, which enjoyed a substantial advance in the previous session, extended their gains one or more points and the general list improved small fractions to nearly a point.

Aluminum company and Singer Mfg. Co. each gained more than a point. Hiram Walker, International Petroleum, Lake Shore Mines and Montgomery Ward "A," improved around a half or more, and Boeing Airplane, Creole Petroleum, Distillers Corp.-Seagrams, Electric Bond & Share, Imperial Oil of Canada, Swift & Co., United Aircraft and Wright Hargreaves were slightly higher.

The two new issues of Armour & Co. to be created as a result of readjustments in the capital structure of the company, were admitted to unlisted trading on a when, as and if, issued basis. The new $6 cumulative convertible prior preferred stock without par value, opened at 60½, and the new common stock sold initially at 6¾. In each case 100 shares changed hands.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, May 29—(AP)—

COTTON—An early advance of 5 to 8 points in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables and reports of rains with low temperatures in the eastern belt, was followed by reactions in cotton today under pre-holiday realizing and scattered selling. October contracts sold off from 11.70 to 11.59, a net decline of about 4 points, but the market later stiffened up on reports of renewed strength in the wheat market. At 2 o'clock, October was holding around 11.64, with active months showing net advances of 1 to 2 points.

Futures closed steady, ½ higher; July, 11.44; October, 11.64; December, 11.76; January, 11.81; March, 11.91; May, 12.01.

Spot, steady; middling, 11.60.

JOHNSON GIVEN POOR FARM RULE

County Board Rescinds Auckerman Election As Superintendent.

That chronic source of agitation to county comissioners, the poor farm, was transferred to the exclusive control of Commissioner Johnson at the meeting of that group Tuesday morning and action was taken to permit the retention of J. T. Christian as superintendent there. The motion passed on May 15 providing for the appointment of Ben Auckerman as superintendent on June 1 was rescinded.

Action taken by the commissioners Tuesday morning was, among other things, the outgrowth of a petition for public hearing on county farm conditions which was signed by 39 inmates and presented to the commissioners last week. The petitioners asked that Superintendent Christian and his wife be retained and that the cook and her assistant at the farm be discharged. The cook and assistant have since been discharged, commissioners said.

Motion transferring authority for complete administration of the farm to Johnson was made by Commissioner Bennett, in whose district the farm is located and who has previously played the major part in the direction of its affairs. Under tentative plans revealed by Johnson Tuesday, he intends to make Christian superintendent in fact as well as in name. Previously his actions have been subject in large measure to whims of the commissioners. Johnson said he plans a thorough investigation of county farm conditions, however, before he adopts any permanent policy.

It was also voted to give Commissioner Bennett charge of the custodial activities in the courthouse and Commissioner Joe Cameron charge of the detention home.

Nothing was done with respect to mothers pensions or the hospital for mental patients near Eighteenth and R strets.

DROUTH PERILS ALL FARM CROPS

CHICAGO, May 29 — (AP) — Drouth and mounting temperatures threatened damage in the middlewest today to late crops which had escaped previous ravages.

Wheat and other early crops already were beyond redemption in many sections and now the heat and continued lack of rainfall are reported to be periling all crops.

No substantial rains were reported in the middlewest, except in a few spots in the Dakotas and northern Minnesota.

Forest fires, abetted by the drouth, blazed over thousands of acres of Minnesota woodlands yesterday with temperatures ranging around 100 degrees. One man perished in the flames.

St. Paul Heat Death.

ST. PAUL, May 29—(AP)—The first death of the season here attributed to heat occurred today as the mercury rose to 100 and above in several Minnesota and North Dakota towns.

The victim was Albert Zack, 33. Physicians, called after he collapsed on a street here, said death was caused by a heart attack, induced by heat.

3-Inch Rain at Tripp, S. D.

SIOUX FALLS, May 29—(AP)—A three-inch rain at Tripp and scattered showers elsewhere in South Dakota brought some relief last night from the intense heat which gripped the state and sent the mercury to as high as 106.

About People

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Hayden of Franklin, who have lived in Nebraska more than 50 years, are visiting in Lincoln at the home of their daughter, Mrs. H. J. Walker. Next November they will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary. Mr. Hayden, at the age of 84, is still actively conducting his business as a hardware dealer and is in his store every day.

Rev. A. J. Bard, former Lincoln minister who has been a pastor-evangelist at Emmanuel tabernacle in Seattle, Wash., will preach Tuesday evening at the Christian and Missionary Alliance tabernacle, Thirtieth and O streets, beginning at 7:45 o'clock. His subject will be "Sodom's Last Night." Rev. and Mrs. Bard are enroute to their home from Salina, Kas., where he has had charge of the work at the [illegible] Bible hall for the past few weeks. While in Lincoln Rev. and Mrs. Bard are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. August Lundholm, 1429 South Twenty-eighth street.

Lakeside Postoffice Is Looted $250 and Stamps

The postoffice at Lakeside in Sheridan county was looted of its entire stock of postage stamps and $250 in cash Friday night, a notice by Postal Inspector R. C. Hettich of Hastings to State Sheriff Fred Bentley Tuesday disclosed. He asked the state sheriff to assist in the investigation.

CHICAGO, May 29 (AP)—

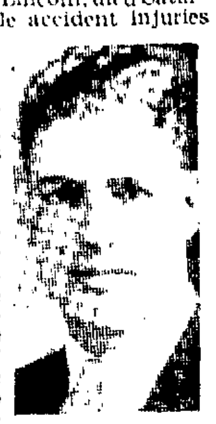
BUTTER—Was firm in tone today.

EGGS—Were steady; hens strong and other poultry steady.

To date many butter traders have been attracted by the drouth condition of the country and consequent decreased production. The only selling worthy of mention apparently has been for the account hedgers assured of at least small profits on the turn. However, speculative buying has been hesitant and the volume is not sufficient to make a bull market.

Lincoln Girl's Fiance Dies From Accident Injuries

Edward McAhn, 30, fiance of Miss Helen Munger of Lincoln, died Saturday of automobile accident injuries in Denver, according to word received here.



Edward McAhn.

Miss Munger who teaches at Wood Lake, was to meet Mr. McAhn in North Platte Friday. He was driving from Denver when a connecting rod broke and his machine overturned 20 miles east of Denver. The couple was to have been married in a few weeks.

Mr. McAhn formerly attended the University of Nebraska, and had just completed his law studies at the University of Colorado. He had planned to enter his father's law firm in Denver.

Miss Munger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Munger, 1712 Pepper avenue. She proceeded to Denver on receiving word of the accident, and was joined there by her sister, Miss LaVern Munger.

READY TO HELP DROUTH VICTIMS

Federal Agents Say Government Is Ready To Step In.

OMAHA, May 29— (AP) —Four Washington FCA officials, arriving here today to study midwestern drouth conditions, announced the government is prepared to attack the problem of emergency credit for farmers on three fronts. The four were Forbes Morgan, vice governor of the farm credit administration; Land Bank Commissioner Albert Goss; E. B. Reid, general information agent, and F. F. Hill, assistant to the governor.

The triplearmed program of the FCA to aid drouth stricken farmers, the officials said, includes:

1. Co-operation of the Production Credit corporation in aiding farmers, especially in the designated drouth area of South Dakota, to obtain emergency crop loans from a $10,000,000 emergency fund for drouth areas.

2. Renewal to farmers and gentlemen facing distress on loans previously granted by the Regional Agricultural Credit corporation, which has stopped making new loans and is now liquidating.

3. Announcement that the Federal Land bank stands ready to extend credit on a business basis to the many farmers who have not needed credit in the past, but who require a loan to tide them over the drouth period.

Morgan said the emergency crop loan office at St. Paul, Minn., which handled all emergency loans for the eighth district — Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and Wyoming—has been ordered to relieve the restrictions on seed loans whenever possible.

To farmers whose credit will not warrant a production credit loan, he added, this office may loan as high as two dollars an acre, with a maximum of $250 to a farmer. The same maximum applies to cattle loans.

Plan Trade Trip

A committee headed by Perry Branch, chairman of the manufacturers and jobbers subdivision of the chamber of commerce met with Burlington traffic officials Tuesday and completed arrangements for the trade excursion to Holdrege on the Zephyr, June 14. The train leaves Lincoln at 7 o'clock in the morning and after a day at Holdrege will return at 11 o'clock at night.

City Briefs

Decree To Mrs. Taber — Mrs. Stanley Taber was granted a divorce on a cross-petition to her husband's suit Tuesday by District Judge E. B. Chappell. Mrs. Taber was awarded custody of the two children and alimony starting at $150 per month. The alimony is to be reduced to $125 when the oldest child, Blanche Virginia, becomes 21 on June 16, 1941, and to $25 per month on April 1, 1944. Payments are to cease on June 17, 1951, when the younger child, Dorothy June, becomes 21. Mrs. Taber was also granted 9½ shares of United Light and Railway stock and $150 for attorneys fees. The couple was married Oct. 11, 1918, at Hoboken, N. J. Mrs. Taber charged cruelty.

LET FORTY-SIX ROAD PROJECTS

Twelve State Highway Jobs Deferred For Study of Bids.

Awarding of contracts to low bidders on all but twelve of the fifty-eight projects in last week's half-million dollar highway letting was announced Tuesday by A. T. Lobdell, chief of the state bureau of roads and bridges, following a conference with Federal District Engineer Clifford Shoemaker on the federal emergency work involved. Low bids on the twelve, totalling approximately $122,000, were deferred for further study, Lobdell said.

Deferred were two projects on the Dodge street improvement in and near Omaha, including two bridges and retaining walls, the latter at the Saddle Creek crossing. Also deferred was a 9.3 mile bituminous mat project in Sioux county, Harrison west, the only job of that type deferred among the eight in the letting.

Other deferred projects were gravel maintenance jobs as follows: Emerson-Pender, Thurston-Dixon counties, 8 4 miles; Norfolk-Wausa, Pierce and Madison counties, 23.7 miles; Pierce-Wausa, Norfolk-Pierce counties 9 3 miles; Plainview-Randolph, Pierce county 8 miles; Holbrook-Arapahoe, Furnas county 61 1 miles., Arapahoe-Oxford, Furnas county, 15 6 miles; Oxford-Holdrege, Harlan-Phelps counties, 21 7 miles; Holdrege-Atlanta, Phelps county, 3 8 miles; Orleans-Naponee and Alma south, Harlan and Franklin counties, 12 7 miles.

Contracts Awarded Six Gravel Projects

Abel Construction Company Low On Sixteen Miles Surfacing To Be Done For County.

Bids on six county gravel projects involving the surfacing of a total of sixteen miles of road were opened at the county commissioners' meeting Tuesday morning. The Abel Construction company's total bid of $14,738.90 was low and the company was awarded the projects. The projects follow:

A mile south of Walton, 1½ miles gravel; from Raymond east to Fourteenth street, 5 miles gravel; from the end of the present gravel on north Twenty-seventh street, 2½ miles gravel to the Arbor road; on west Van Dorn street, 1½ miles gravel past Pioneers park; 4 miles gravel east of the College View cemetery; and 1½ miles gravel west from the end of the gravel on West A street.

During the morning a delegation of twenty-five from near Agnew asked county commissioners for gravel on the 8-mile stretch from Agnew east to Fourteenth street. No action was taken on the request.

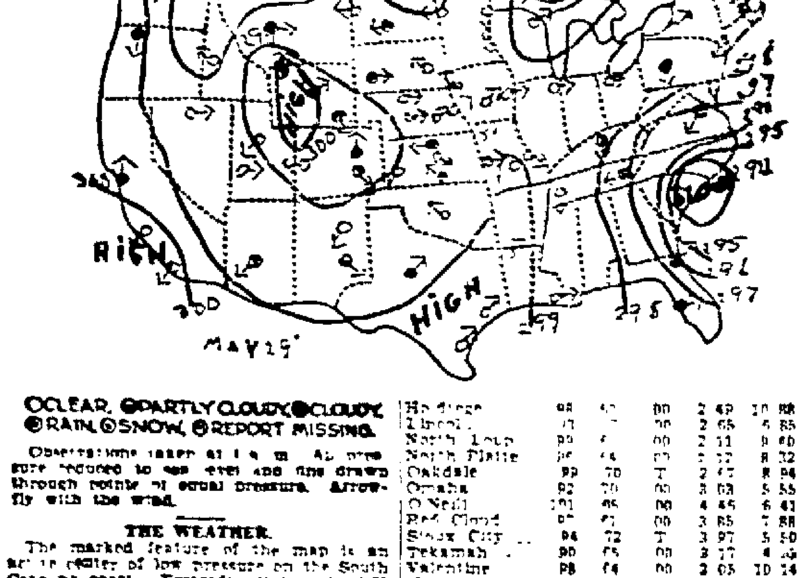
U. S. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE WEATHER BUREAU



OCLEAR, ◐PARTLY CLOUDY, ●CLOUDY, ®RAIN, ⓢSNOW, ⓜREPORT MISSING.

Observations taken at 7 a. m. Air pressure reduced to sea level and line drawn through points of equal pressure. Arrows fly with the wind.

THE WEATHER.

The marked feature of the map is an active center of low pressure on the South Carolina coast. Yesterday it brought 1 20 inches of rain to Jacksonville and .76 inch additional this morning. Charleston reports 1.58 inches. These rains will not reach Nebraska but the entire low will tend to modify movements of the less intense western pressure centers and render conditions unsettled. MINERVA'S MAIL

Take Your Troubles To Minerva

Telephone Manners.

Have you ever had your calm ruffled, your work interrupted and your entire day's routine upset through a series of tactless, unnecessary and tiresome telephone calls? If you haven't you are an exception. I know of no greater need than a telephone courtesy code.

Why it is that a person who is otherwise the last word in social observance will launch into a prolonged and inconsequential telephone conversation without asking her victim what activities she might be interrupting, is to me an unsolved mystery.

Other ways in which telephone social misdemeanors are committed include: Saying "Hello, who is this?" when you get your number.

Shouting into the telephone, or snapping rudely if you have made the error of getting the wrong number.

Dodging the issue of stating the name and correct number if you are queried by a telephone caller.

Making a game out of telephoning, cooing "Know who this is?" or otherwise conducting a prolonged guessing contest.

Quarreling over the telephone, and saying ugly things which you would never venture to utter face-to-face.

Hanging up the telephone in anger in the middle of a conversation.

Talking interminably, ignoring the probable impatience of your listener or the desires of the use of the telephone by other members of the family or others on the party line.

Using the telephone for clandestine conversations, gossip-distribution, anonymous warnings, lovemaking or otherwise intimate conversations.

Calling busy people during office hours for social chatter.

Forgetting to say "please" and "thank you" and to recognize that leaving a message is asking a favor.

Good manners over the telephone are as important—or even more important—than they are elsewhere.

His Hand Called.

Dear Minerva: I am a man forty-one years of age and have been going with a charming woman for four years. She is nearly thirty. We are very congenial and have splendid times together excepting for one thing. She is constantly after me for us to get married. I've been married once and am in no hurry to be tied down again. She is a very desirable woman and I intend to marry her some day but I don't like to be hurried into it. She recently announced that this is the last summer that she will go with me, that if I do not show that I am sincere about marriage, she will definitely turn me down and look elsewhere. I think that is pretty bold tactics for a woman and told her so. But she answered that if she didn't look out for herself that no one else would do the job, that she is interested in matrimony even if I am not, that she prefers me but not enough to accept me as the perennial beau.

So I'm seeking your advice. Does a man have any rights any more to arrange marriage when and as he pleases or does he have to be dictated to by a woman? It gets me pretty mad to have her so aggressive. And yet I'd hate like sin to lose her.—WIDOWER.

A. I think the woman is only showing good sence, and that she would be displaying even greater intelligence to pass you up right now, not to wait another season. For there seems to be no great opportunity for success in a marriege, where the issue is forced as she is attempting to force it. The man dragged to the altar against his will is not the prospect for an amiable or considerate husband.

I don't think you are in love with the young woman. If you were, I don't believe you would be so indifferent about marriage selfish though you may be. You find her an entertaining and congenial companion but I believe that true love is missing, otherwise you would not have this stubborn attitude about marriage. When a man really loves a woman he wants her for his own. He wouldn't place her in the position of being a supplicant for his name and protection Nor would he be content to see her a few paltry hours during the week.

The girl is quite right to call time on you. She is wise to realize that she is reaching the peak of her attractiveness and eligibility, and that her margin of marriage opportunities narrows with the years.

You are very selfish to monopolize the girl's attentions if you do not expect to marry her, or even to postpone the marriage until the mood happens to strike you to settle down again into domestic life. Obviously, no other suitors will appear in her horizon while you so obviously have a claim staked out.

Answered Briefly.

Dorothy: Since your husband likes his women slender, I'd say it behooves you to cut down on those extra pounds. It's a matter of controling your appetite, of eating the non-fattening foods and increasing your exercise. Since you have difficulty in controlling your weight, you'd better ask your family doctor for advice. Then follow his advice, if you truly want to please your husband.

Nancy: You are trying to live your husband's life for him. It can't be done. Do your part, then leave the rest to him, and don't try to recreate him after an image of your own fancy.

Lucille Brokaw (left) and Mary Taylor were chosen by a jury of famous artists as two of the 12 most beautiful women in New York society. They will have parts in the tableaux vivants at the June ball, June 4, for the benefit of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's club for unemployed girls.

Responsibilities Of Ministry Emphasized

Graduates Of Martin Luther Seminary Hear Baccalaureate Address By Rev. Goede.

"You are about to enter a profession that carries with it a great responsibility, in which the harvest is plentiful but the serious-minded laborers are few," Rev. C. Goede, sr., of Glenville, Neb., told the three graduating students of the Martin Luther seminary at baccalaureate services in Frieden's Lutheran church Monday evening.

"Your responsibility consists of your own salvation and that of your flock," Rev. Goede, said. "It is a most serious calling.

"At the conclusion of your efforts, your reward is unestimable. Part of it will be in personal satisfaction and the feeling of duty well-performed. The remainder will be in the Master saying 'Well done, my good and faithful servant.'"

Dr. O. W. Heick, dean of the seminary, presided.

The three graduates are Lorin J. Wolff of Sterling, Wolfang Goemmel of Sutton and Alfred Duis of Odell.

Earl Hansen Charged With Grand Larceny

A complaint was filed in Municipal court Monday afternoon charging Earl W. Hansen, 1343 L street, with grand larceny and breaking and entering in connection with the robbing of the garage of Santo Quattrocchi, 1748 F street, Saturday night. Hansen is charged with stealing painting material and equipment valued at $55.

Night Police Captain Walter Rowden said Hansen had confessed to the thefts. Loot, which included 190 pounds of white lead, 10 gallons of linseed oil, 8 brushes, and 25 gallons of motor oil, was discovered by Detectives Al Hartmann and Jack Dunne in a garage near Thirty-third and Center streets Sunday morning.

CITY AUTHORIZES TAX SETTLEMENT

Sidewalk Assessment Of 1915 Nears Final Collection.

Mayor Fenton B. Fleming and City Attorney Max Kier Monday were authorized to complete the settlement of an old sidewalk assessment case, involving upwards of $1,569 of uncollected tax due since 1915. The walk is that along the north side of O street, west from Ninth street.

The settlement is in conformity with a District court verdict favorable to the city. The improvement was made under orders of the city council and the city took the assessment certificate. The principal was $790, on which interest at 5 per cent must be paid from 1915.

The order of the council Monday directs the city attorney to sign a stipulation for the settlement, and the mayor was directed to deliver it to the Champlin Refining Co., the sidewalk certificate upon the payment of the amount involved.

Hold Off Stall Parking.

A resolution directing Commissioner Bair, head of the street department, to mark 12 stalls in each block for 15-minute parking was not introduced. The council wanted to wait until a complete report on a traffic survey is made. Some of the commissioners also believe that the expense of painting and policing 12 stalls in each block will be too heavy.

Before anything is done, Mayor Fleming stated, the council will confer with the committee for the prevention of accidents. The 12 stalls to the block proposal was made to the council by the retail trade subdivision of the chamber of commerce. The council also will confer with members of the subdivision and other businessmen of the congested area.

The contract and bond of Korsmeyer Co., awarded a contract a week ago to furnish 24 transformers to the lighting department, was approved. The bond is for $2,065.62, the amount of the contract.

Marshall Claim Referred.

The council referred to the legal department the claim for $3,409.75 of Walter A. Marshall whose son, Luceen, died on April 23, from a wound received a few days earlier, while watching a running gun fight between police and Texas ex-convicts.

According to the claim the amount asked by Mr. Marshall is to cover medical, hospital, funeral and other expenses.

Thre applications for licenses to sell beer were ordered advertised for hearings on Monday, June 4. Glenn Hamman wants an off sale license at 6113 Havelock avenue, and Marie Katherina Butz, on and off sale permits at 146 South Tenth street.

Engineers Told About Speed Run Of Zephyr

J. E. Gardner and R. T. Thomas Say Train Designed Recapture Rail Travel

J. E. Gardner, electrical engineer, and R. T. Thomas, of the automotive equipment department of the Burlington railroad, were the principal speakers at the last regular meeting of the Lincoln Engineer's club at the Lindell hotel Monday evening, when they pictured the details of the history-making run of the Zephyr.

"While most persons regard the Zephyr as an experiment in principle and construction," Mr. Gardner explained, "that is far from the truth. As President Ralph Budd has declared, it is an experiment to see whether the American public can be re-converted to travel by rail."

They told the 100 engineers present that the reason that the Zephyr will "home" in Lincoln at the close of the summer is that the company wants a fair testing ground—where a 500 mile round trip could be made every day.

F. T. Darrow, engineer; F. R. Mullen, general superintendent; and A. W. Andrews, officiating engineer, were other Burlington officials present at the meeting.

President F. J. Gunther presided at the short business meeting which preceded the program. Plans were discussed for the annual joint picnic of the Omaha and Lincoln clubs, to be held in June.

City Tax Collections Running Ahead of 1933

Tax collections by the city treasurer when the office closed Saturday, indicated that the income for the fiscal year beginning September 1, 1933, will be slightly in excess of the total for 1932-33, when only 80 per cent of the levy was collected. This is on a levy of $819,000, both years.

On May 26 a year ago total collections, according to L. C. Oberlies, head of the treasury department, was $531,432. Last Saturday the total had reached $539,000. Total collections for the year ended September 1, 1933, were $659,000.

Last Saturday's income, according to Mr. Oberlies, was $13,700. A year ago $14,017 was taken in on the same date.

DENY LICENSE CHARGE.

A plea of not guilty to a charge of selling tobacco without a license was entered on behalf of the Blackstone Cafe Corp. in Municipal court Monday afternoon. Trial was set for June 5 and bond fixed at $500.

New Business Girls Sorority Installed

National Officers Initiate Charter Members of Delta Theta Chi Chapter Here.

Twenty-five charter members were initiated into Nebraska Alpha chapter of Delta Theta Chi, national business girl's sorority, at the organization meeting at the Lincoln hotel Monday evening. Miss Helen Blackstone, Syracuse, N. Y., representing the national office, was in charge of the ceremonies, assisted by Misses Helen Stigleman of Youngstown, O., and Marjorie Curnett, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Miss Eva L. Erickson, instructor at Irving junior high school, was installed as sponsor; Miss Ruth Barnard, president; Miss Marjorie Berryman, vice president. Miss Jeanette Longcor, secretary and Miss Margaret Beck, treasurer.

The local chapter is the first in Nebraska, as the national rules provide that the initial chapter in each state shall be located in the capitol The sorority was organized in 1920 in the interests of broader cultural activities and progress for American business girls.

The members were seated at a triangular table arrangement decorated with green and gold and a centerpiece of Johannahill roses. The lighting effect was produced by slender green tapers.

The charter members include the Misses Ruth Barnard, Marjorie Berryman, Jeanett Longcor, Margaret Beck, Dorothy Atkinson, Ruth Bateman, Ethel Brett, Sarah Drieth, Louise Erdmann, Valeria Hielman, Ethel Hume, Glenna Hutchman, Dorothy Jackson, Frieda Jones, Viola Luther, Mary Ellen McCoy, Thelma Meyer, Marguerite Phillips, Violet Seaburg, Kay Stearns, Hazel Stubbs, Gertrude Taylor, Muriel Watson and Josephine Wernimont.

State Receives Bids On Oils and Greases

About 20 bids, most of them bein gompetitive in character, for a year's supply of lubricating oil and greases to be used in automobiles, trucks, highway machines, stationary engines, and other motive equipment owned by the state of Nebraska, were received and opened Monday morning at the office of State Purchasing Agent Farris. It will require several days for tabulation, comparison and tests before deciding the awards.

Quantites specified for purchase are approximately the same as those used during the past contract year, but more or less may be bought as needed during the new period. The total estimated oil gallonage is 99,550. Greases are bought in drums, or tanks and in lots of 100, 50, or 25 pounds each, as ordered. Deliveries are made at a dozen different points in the state.

Three firms file bids conforming strictly with oil code provisions, their prices being at market quotations with a guarantee that there will be no increase of more than 25 per cent above what the state has heretofore been paying. All the rest submitted specific bids based on the present market. The prices paid for oil under the contract about to expire ranged from 24 to 26 cents a gallon. The Skelly Oil company had the contract the last two years.

Greases are divided up into a number of different grades, for use on different parts of machines, and prices vary accordingly. The Anchor Oil Co. of Omaha now has the contract for these material.

Bishop Kucera Speaks At Banquet of Choir

Bishop L. B. Kucera was the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the choir at St. Mary's Cathedral held in the Cornhusker hotel Monday evening.

Msgr. P. L. O'Loughlin served as toastmaster and also spoke.

The choir, under the direction of Lyle DeMoss, sang deVittoria's "O Gloriosa Virginum," a motet of the middle-ages. J. C. N. Richards accompanied.

The clean Center Leaves are the mildest leaves
They Taste Better!
WE like to tell about the finer tobaccos in Luckies—the choicest Turkish and domestic, and only the mild, clean center leaves—they cost more—they taste better. Then "It's toasted"—for throat protection. But we're just as proud of the way Luckies are made. They're so round and firm, so free from loose ends. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—do not dry out. Luckies are always—in all-ways!—kind to your throat.
